At least six men, on a barge nearby, leaped into the river when the fire started. They were rescued and taken to hospitals. Embers carried by wind to a pier two blocks away set that afire also. Dillon Says Gains In Output May Cut Deficit by $1 Billion

Treasury Chief Emphasizes Appeal for Tax Reduction

BY WHITNEY SROEMAKER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury, Douglas Dillon, said today the economic outlook is so promising that the estimated $11.9 billion deficit in President Kennedy's 1963-64 budget may be cut a billion dollars. This provides even more reason for reducing taxes, Dillon told a meeting of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Kennedy had forecast the deficit of nearly $12 billion—largest ever projected—when he proposed a $90.8-billion spending program for the year beginning July 1, along with a three-step tax reduction plan.

Situation Brightens

In his prepared remarks for a tax and spending discussion on the second day of the business group's meeting, Dillon said it would have been unrealistic four or five months ago to expect conditions for a tax cut would be so favorable. Now, he said, "the time is right."

Based upon the economy's performance in the last few months, he added, prospects for the year are relatively better than most observers had anticipated.

"If the improvement continues," Dillon said, "our estimated revenues for fiscal 1964 may well be more than we estimated in January—perhaps by as much as a billion dollars—thus reducing the deficit."

Spar to Employment

"Even more important, a tax cut when the economy is reasonably buoyant would be far more effective in carrying us toward full employment than a tax cut when the economy is merely limping along."

He said Kennedy's tax program is designed to "accelerate our economy" well into the future. The economy now, he said, is ideal for this kind of program.

Responding to critics of budget deficits, Dillon said "the deficit we now face is the result of an economy which produces too little."

Excursion Ship Blows Gasket, Asks Assistance

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP)—The excursion vessel South American with a crew of about 40 men blew a main engine gasket amid gale winds on Lake Michigan today and radioed for assistance, the Coast Guard said.

The 290-foot passenger vessel had left Holland, Mich., for dry dock at Manitowish, Wis., where it was to be prepared for summer pleasure travel, the Coast Guard said.

Acting Woodbine Skipper Lt. Cmdr. Patrick Jacobson said his reports indicated the South American was safe for the moment, 12 miles from shore, still able to make about two knots under its own power.

Most Saipan Buildings Torn Down in Storm

95 Per Cent of Homes Destroyed By Typhoon Olive

AGANA, Guam (AP)—A radio message from nearby Saipan Island today said Typhoon Olive, packing 110-mile an hour winds, destroyed 95 per cent of the homes and nearly half the island's public buildings.

The message said no deaths were reported. One person was injured as the devastating Pacific storm—the second to slam into the Mariana Islands in six months—flattened Saipan.

Property damages were estimated at $2 million. All electrical power and telephone lines were knocked out, the message said.

Saipan and Tinian Islands were struck by Olive after the storm dealt less damaging blows to Guam and Rota Island, also in the Trust Territory chain.

U.S. Asked for Help
Jose Benitez, deputy high commissioner for the Pacific Trust Territory, said he had asked President Kennedy to declare Saipan, Tinian and Rota disaster areas. This would prepare the way for federal assistance to repair storm damages.

The radio message said about 45 per cent of Saipan's 2,000 public buildings were destroyed or damaged.

Most of the island's 12,000 natives were left homeless, Benitez said. The Trust Territory administration building and two Catholic churches were being used to house the homeless, he said.

Boeing Facing Strike Threat by Machinist Union

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—The Boeing Co. faced a strike ultimatum today. The AFL-CIO Machinists' Union still held out hopes of averting a walkout, providing the huge aerospace firm would revise its contract offer.

The union Monday night disclosed plans for a rolling strike to begin at Cape Canaveral, Fla., Thursday, reaching this area—site of Boeing's headquarters and center of its largest employment—next Tuesday.

Boeing, maker of the Minuteman missile and involved in other defense projects, declined comment.

Central, Southern Parts Of Nation Hit; Property Damage Reported Heavy

TUNICA, Miss. (AP)—Tornadoes roared through widespread areas of the south and central parts of the nation Monday and Tuesday night, leaving 10 dead and more than 50 injured.

Four persons were killed near this north Mississippi town when a tornado skipped across the Mississippi River from Arkansas and hit the Moon Lake fishing area. Two others were killed 140 miles east at Shannon, Miss.

Farther north, the Tennessee highway patrol reported two killed by a twister at Maury City, about 90 miles northeast of Memphis. One was reported killed in Hamilton, Ala., in the northwest part of the state near the Mississippi line.

3 Other States Hit

An elderly woman was killed in Randless, Mo. Other tornadoes struck Indiana and Kentucky. High winds were reported in Louisiana.

Those killed at Moon Lake near Tunica were listed as Ausley Buchanan; Melinda Foster, 5; Mrs. Tiny Evans, 70, the girl's grandmother; and E. L. Culp. Killed at Shannon were A. C. Pounds, about 35, and Beatrice Hodges.

The Maury City, Tenn., victims were listed as Mrs. Sissie Starks, 88, of Friendship, Tenn., and her daughter, Mrs. Frank Branch, 39, of Jackson, Tenn. They were visiting in the home of Mrs. Starks' son, G. P. Starks. The frame house was destroyed.

Heavy Property Loss

The man killed in Alabama was not identified. The Marion County, Ala., sheriff's office said at least 17 other persons were injured in the Hamilton twister; most of them teen-agers gathered in a cafe.

Heavy property damage was reported in most of the stricken states. The most destructive twister

Eichmann Aides Face Trial in W. Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Two former aides of Adolf Eichmann will go on trial soon for sharing responsibility for the killing of at least 300,000 Hungarian Jews in World War II.

Herman Krumey, 58, and Otto Hunsche, 51, also are accused of extorting millions from their victims on "false promises" to save them from extermination. Krumey was Eichmann's representative in Hungary in 1944 and Hunsche was one of Eichmann's legal advisers.

Thousands See Race of Steamboats on the Ohio

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Two well-worked old steamboats race up the Ohio River today—and the thousands expected to watch their duel are sure to include many who can see why Huck Finn got so excited.

The contestants are the Belle of Louisville and the Delta Queen. The Belle is carrying the hopes of the homefolk—all of Kentucky's, in fact—and the sleek Queen, a passenger craft, will be cheered on by the folks at her home base, Cincinnati, Ohio.

The boats, their sternwheels flailing, will race upriver from the downtown levee to Six-Mile Island, turn around and head back. The first one to pass under the downstream side of Clark Memorial Bridge, between Louisville and Jeffersonville, Ind., will be the winner. The total distance is about 14 miles.

The Belle will be making a real comeback. She is 49 years old and not as powerful as the Queen. She was on the skids when Jefferson County (Louisville) Judge Marlow Cook bought her for use as a recreational facility last May.

Now she is painted white with red trim, has completely repaired boilers and shiny ceiling lamps on her ballroom deck. At her helm will be another river veteran of half a century, Capt. Paul Underwood.

One house near Rich was carried one-fourth mile by the twister but its 10 occupants survived. Heavy property damage was reported from winds and hail the size of hen's eggs which pounded the area.

Reds Chalk Up Sharp Gains at Polls in Italy

Liberal Right Also Gains; Setback for Christian Democrats

The outcome of weekend voting for a new chamber of deputies and senate showed a political upheaval that raised a big question mark over Fanfani and his experiment in left-leaning government for Italy, a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

First in the senate, then in the chamber, the Communists pushed their total popular vote above the 25 per cent mark.

Reds Jubilant

In both houses, the Christian Democrats—who led Italy out of postwar ruin to economic boom—slumped below the 40 per cent level.

The Italian Communist party—the biggest such party outside the Red sphere and second biggest in Italy—improved by almost 4 percentage points over its showing in the last general election, in 1958.

Communists were jubilant at the outcome. The party boss, Moscow-trained Palmiro Togliatti, said it was a real victory, "better than our forecasts and hopes."

Fanfani withheld comment. His party's campaign workers watched the returns with gloom.

The results were astounding in an election where little change had been anticipated.

Liberals Double Vote

There was a surprising flight of voters from the Christian Democratic party in both directions—to left and right.

In both houses, for the first time, the Communists and Marxist Socialist parties together polled more votes than the Christian Democrats.

In both houses the Liberal Party, a rightist group advocating free enterprise and offering a haven to dissident Christian Democrat rightists, doubled its vote over the last parliamentary elections in 1958.

Over all, the parties backing Fanfani's "opening to the left" maintained a majority in the new parliament, though their edge over the opposition was reduced.

Haiti Acts to Ease Crisis With Dominican Republic

Orders Guard Recall; Duvalier Said to Offer Castro Bases

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The Dominican Republic charged today that President Francois Duvalier of Haiti had offered military bases to Cuba's Fidel Castro.

The charge was made by Foreign Minister Andres Freites to a peace-keeping mission of the Organization of American States (OAS)—which arrived here this morning.

Members of the mission flew to Port au Prince, the Haitian capital, after an airport conference with Freites.

War threats had receded as the Dominican Republic claimed a bloodless victory over Haitian dictator Duvalier.

The Dominican government radio proclaimed a "triumph for our national dignity" in the Haitian government's removal of guards from the grounds of the Dominican Embassy in Port au Prince, Alleged opponents of Duvalier had taken refuge there.

President Juan Bosch's government also took satisfaction from assurances from Haiti that it would respect the security of diplomatic missions there.

The Dominican government had charged that Haitian troops had invaded and surrounded its embassy in Port au Prince. Threatening to use force unless Duvalier gave in by 8 o'clock Monday night, it sent troop reinforcements to stations near the Haitian border and moved warships toward the French-speaking Negro republic with which it shares the island of Hispaniola.

Radio Santo Domingo said President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela had offered the Dominican government "all you need in your fight to free the people of Haiti from the dictator."

Greek Queen Compelled to Flee Pickets

BY EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—American movie actress Marti Stevens told today about the night her doorbell rang and "when I opened the door I found a beautiful woman, trembling and with mud splattered clothing."

Frederika Queen.

Queen Frederika of Greece had arrived in London that day, April 20, to attend the wedding of Princess Alexandra.

Her hotel was picketed by demonstrators demanding freedom for Greek political prisoners. The queen and her 30-year-old daughter Irene slipped out a side door, but pickets were there, too.

A source close to the Greek court said some of the pickets grabbed the 46-year-old queen by the shoulders, spun her around and chased her and the princess up an alley.

They rang a doorbell to ask refuge.

Saw Pickets
"I had no idea who they really were," said Mrs. Stevens, "but I invited them in. It was only after the queen had been in my apartment for 10 minutes that I recognized them from photographs."

"She was still trembling and I offered her a cognac. She said she preferred scotch and soda. She told me what had happened. Looking out the window, I saw men and women parading with placards. They appeared to be looking for the queen but they did not know where she had gone."

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home has apologized for two other picketing incidents. The court informant hinted this was not enough since his apologies did not mention the manhandling or the chase.

Mrs. Stevens said the queen stayed about an hour and two days later she received a signed photograph inscribed "with many thanks for your prompt help to strangers in distress."

New Hampshire Governor Signs Bill to Legalize Sweepstakes

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—Democratic Gov. John W. King announced to the Republican-controlled New Hampshire Legislature today that he had signed a sweepstakes bill which had kept the state in turmoil for months.

Gov. King called on the legislature to help him "make a first state operated sweepstakes in this country, one that will be conducted honestly, efficiently and in compliance with the laws of the United States government."

King told the lawmakers, his legislative counsel, Joseph Millimet, had discussed the sweepstakes with U.S. Department of Justice lawyers and was convinced that the New Hampshire sweepstakes would not violate federal law.

He said tickets for the sweepstakes, the first to be legalized in any state in nearly 70 years, could be sold to people whether or not they live in New Hampshire.

"It is perfectly lawful for our neighbors to come here on vacation, buy sweepstakes tickets and collect their prizes if they wish," the governor said.

He added that the federal law in concerned only with interstate traffic and not with sweepstakes conducted within a single state.

The governor spoke before a joint session of the House of Representatives and Senate.

The galleries were jammed with visitors. News and television cameramen recorded the historic occasion from the aisles.

Not since 1884, when the privately operated Louisiana lottery went out of business, has a sweepstakes or lottery been sanctioned by any state.

Sweepstakes bills also are under consideration by legislatures in Massachusetts and Vermont. Other states seeking ways to increase revenue are meeting pressure to legalize lotteries or extend race track betting.

2 Sweepstakes Yearly

Supporters of the New Hampshire bill predicted that two sweepstakes a year, based on horse races at Rockingham Park in Salem, just across the state line from Massachusetts, would yield $4 million annually for the state, earmarked for support of schools.

Tickets would be sold for no more than $5 each at Rockingham Park and other tracks, and at state liquor stores in communities that approve.

The measure provided that such ticket sales would be referred to the voters on the ballot every two years, as the sale of liquor is now.

The bill's sponsor, Rep. Laurence M. Pickett, a Democrat from Keene, estimated that winning ticket holders would collect as much as $50,000 in prize money.

Long State Game

Sweepstakes bills are a recurring issue in New Hampshire. The last time a sweepstakes bill was passed by both the House and Senate was in 1955, but Gov. Lane Dwinell vetoed it, reportedly at the urging of the Eisenhower administration.

In advance of the governor's address, there was speculation in some quarters that King would sign the bill. As a legislator he had voted for two sweepstakes bills. Moreover, the current bill received almost unanimous support from his fellow Democrats.

The governor's legislative counsel, Joseph Millimet of Manchester, conferred with Justice Department lawyers in Washington last week.

Presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger was asked about the attitude of the White House toward the bill. He replied that the sweepstakes was a matter for New Hampshire to consider.

Sheinwold Discard Safer Than A Finesse

In a well-behaved bridge hand you can expect a finesse to succeed. If you have two finesses the odds are 3 to 1 that at least one of them will work. The trouble is that even long shots sometimes come in; you sometimes have a hand in which no finesse works.

West opened the queen of diamonds, and South was as happy as a dog with two dinners as he looked at the dummy. He had a finesse in each black suit, and the contract was safe if either finesse worked.

South took the first diamond with the ace and led a trump. West grabbed the ace of hearts on the run and returned the jack of diamonds to knock out dummy's king.

"You'll sprain your wrist playing so fast," South chided him airily. And declarer drew two more rounds of trumps.

South next tried the spade finesse, losing to the king. West happily cashed a diamond trick, and now the contract depended on the club finesse.

First Twinge
South felt his first twinge when he tested the clubs: East looked too happy. Sure enough, East turned up with the king of clubs, and South had lost a trick in each suit. Down one.

South made his mistake when he looked at the dummy and assumed that a finesse was going to work. Correct play assures the contract regardless of the finesses.

Declarer should win the first diamond with the ace, cash the ace of spades, and then give up a spade trick. He wins the diamond return with dummy's king and cashes the queen of spades to get rid of a diamond.

Having disposed of his diamond loser, South can afford to lose a spade, a trump, and a club.

Mom's Interference Doesn't Help Complexion Problem

BY DR. EVE JONES

DEAR EVE JONES: Why don't girls of today listen to their mothers any more?

I tell my 13-year-old daughter that soap and water aren't good for her face and scalp. But she refuses to believe me. It's gotten so I have to give her baths; otherwise she'd ruin her complexion completely by trying to wash her hair when my back is turned.

Her face is already broken out from washing it so much, but she seems to think I'm out of date when I tell her that dry shampoos are better and so is face cream. MRS. G.K.

Lots of girls shouldn't listen if they aren't hearing good sense. Your ideas about soap went out years ago when mothers stopped making the stuff in a pot over a fire in the forest.

Let your daughter consult a physician for advice about scalp, hair, and skin care. Unless she has some rare difficulties, however, her complexion will be helped by daily doses of soap and water and frequent shampoos.

And let her have privacy during her baths!

DEAR EVE JONES: My 8-year-old son keeps telling people, "Shut up," or "Drop dead, you jerk." He apologizes afterwards when I tell him to, but I don't know if I should or shouldn't pay attention to this annoying manner of his. Will he outgrow it?

Mrs. C. D.

He may just get punched in the teeth before he grows much older if he chooses the wrong person to be rude to. Save him all such trouble by telling him that he may not use such phrases when in your presence or when talking with anyone except his best friends.

His apologies are pointless. Instead, tell him to go off by himself until he can be with people without being rude.

DEAR EVE JONES: My 14-year-old daughter stays near me during the day most of the time. She tries to do what I'm doing—things like dusting and sweeping. And then we play together, for real, each afternoon after her nap.

Is it O.K. for me to play with her or should I encourage her to be more by herself? MRS. I.G.

Do both. Each is good and there's plenty of time for both.

POSTPONING PARTY

Dear Louise: When planning a surprise shower for a friend who was having her first baby, I conceived with her mother to give it in the mother's home, which is about 50 miles from here and which had been my former home town. The baby was born prematurely and fortunately all is well. The party is scheduled for next week, but what should I do now?

Louise Davis Answers:

I suggest that you postpone your shower. After conferring again with your friend's mother, you could set another date, even if it is a month from now.

INTRODUCING SISTERS

Dear Louise: How does one introduce two unmarried sisters of middle age? We used to present the elder as "Miss Anderson" and her younger sister as "Miss Jane Anderson," but I never hear that done nowadays and I am puzzled over the correct procedure.

Louise Davis Answers: People don't stand on strict ceremony these days when introducing sisters of middle age. Your way is correct and is still being done. A slight variation in introducing the younger sister could be "And this is Miss Anderson too." If you have the opportunity for further identification, you could say, "The two Miss Andersons are sisters." If they are not the formidable type, it would be permissible to include both first names, but that naturally wouldn't entitle the third person to call them by their first names.

"Summer Vacations"

was the theme of the Prom Club party Saturday evening at the Menasha Elks Club. A boat, complete with life preservers, helped set the summertime mood. Above, camping out, are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Meyer. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Noren, dancing, paused to extend vacation greetings. At right, good food is a temptation whatever the season of the year. Enjoying snacks are Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wilson, dance chairmen, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Suess, decorations chairmen. (Post-Crescent Photos)

ings on simply styled frames show what different shading methods can do. Left-over paint dabs may do very well for try-outs. Handsome professional finishes often shade soft blue, turquoise or light green on cream or creamy yellow. Antique Venetian red or brick color might be a red on hand with a little white and yellow in it, and the red without tinting could be used for the shading. Tube colors, siennas, umbers and wood stains also shade effectively, and a white frame can be shaded with them or with paint. Apply a baseings several times, and the frame is, handsomely useable as well as a furniture painting guide.

Reducing Aftermath

A mature lovely writes: By dieting I lost 20 pounds, and naturally I am pleased. My one problem is that, in losing weight, my neck became scrawny — much too thin, with slack, coarsened skin. Is there any help for it?

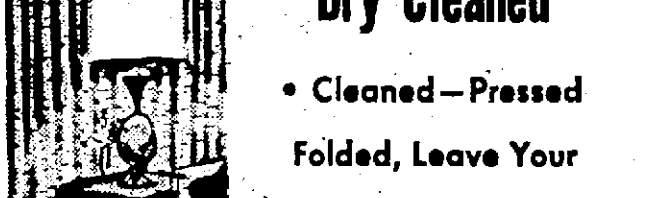

Answer: As an aftermath of dieting, the throat very often is left in a haggard condition. The basic problem, however, is not slenderness. A throat can hardly be too slender these days, if it is taut and smooth. The basic of a scrawny look is loss of skin and muscle tone. The explanation of it is simple: The skin and muscles are so stretched by excess flesh that, when it is removed, there's not enough snap left to girdle the throat in a sleek line. The remedy consequently lies in firming treatments. The following one is most effective:

Once daily, massage with an astringent cream or lotion. Such products are made for the pur-

Your Problems

Teen-Age Boy Should Unwind From Tantrum Throwing Girl

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a 17-year-old high school senior. I can't talk to anyone about this problem because I'd feel like a heel saying these things about a girl.

I've been dating Miss A for almost a year. At first she was a lot of fun but after a while she began to get moody and act weird. She cries over nothing and withdraws into silence for hours at a time.

Last week I told her I thought we'd better call it quits. She went into a crying jag and began to pull chunks of hair out of her head. She said if I ever quit her she would kill herself.

I'd hate to be responsible for anything like that and yet I don't want to go with her anymore. My folks have been opposed to Miss A from the first because she telephones me about three times every evening — sometimes after midnight.

I need advice. — Want Out

Dear Want Out: The girl is mentally ill and needs professional help. Ask your mother to speak to Miss A's mother about putting her in the hands of a doctor.

Don't allow yourself to be threatened into maintaining a relationship you don't want. You are not responsible for this girl. Be gentle and kind, but unwind the relationship — and quickly.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm an active mother 28 years of age. My two children are 7 and 8.

My husband travels five days out of the week and I was going nuts being alone so much. Then I discovered bowling.

Sitters are expensive so I have arranged to leave the key to my apartment with the woman next door. In case of an emergency she can always get in.

My husband told me he tried to phone me from Orlando last week and when nobody answered the phone he became frantic. My 8-year-old is a sound sleeper and he didn't hear the phone ring. When I told my husband where I was he got mad and said I can't leave the kids at night anymore.

I see nothing wrong so long as the neighbor lady is willing to help out. She insists it's no trouble. What do you say? — Leader of the League

Dear Leader: The neighbor woman wouldn't be of much help in case of a flash fire. Small children should not be left alone.

If you can't afford a sitter, ask the neighbor if you can put the kids to sleep on a cot in her apartment and collect them when you get home. If she is unwilling, stay home.

DEAR ANN: My husband and I bought an enormous old house three years ago and converted it into a small hotel. We can accommodate 15 couples and we run about 80 per cent capacity from September through April. Beginning in May we are jammed.

The problem is my husband's relatives. They pile in at the height of the season and call a "family visit." They sponge two and three week vacations, complete with free room and board and maid service. They write in advance to "reserve" their favorite rooms and we are sick of it.

When they return home we get a thank-you card. Not one of these relatives has left a dollar tip for the maids who kept their rooms in order. My husband says if we refuse to let them continue to visit, his name will be mud with all the family. Is it worth it? — Up to Here

Dear Up: These free-loaders know you are in the hotel business and that their visits are costing you cold, hard cash. But, obviously, they don't care.

Since you do care, tell them when they write for "reservations" that you are filled up. If the only way to hang on to their friendship is to give them free vacations, their friendship isn't worth hanging on to.

To learn the knack of feeling comfortable with the opposite sex, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "How To Be Date Bait," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Lawrence Strieby Wed in Boston Rite

Lawrence Strieby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Strieby, 616 E. Circle St., claimed Miss Louise von Ehren as his bride April 6 in a ceremony at the home of Mrs. Isabelle Hickey, Boston, Mass.

The Rev. Hal Lindsay officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Kurt von Ehren, Bronxville, N. Y., are parents of the bride.

Miss Lisa Fredericks, Rye, N.Y., and John Dowd, Brookline, Mass., served as honor attendants. A reception was held at the home of Mrs. Hickey.

Mrs. Strieby, a graduate of Bronxville High School, attended Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., and was graduated from Connecticut College, New London, Conn., where she was affiliated with Pi Beta Phi sorority. She received a master degree from the New England Conservatory, Boston. She has taught music at the Massachusetts State Hospital School, Boston.

Her husband was graduated from Lawrence College, where he was affiliated with Phi Kappa Tau fraternity and Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, professional music fraternity. He is studying toward a masters degree at the New England Conservatory, where he is affiliated with Pi Kappa Lambda, honorary music society.

The newlyweds will reside in Boston.

New Pump to Help Babies' First Breaths

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Old-fashioned bottom smacks to start newly born babies breathing may be on the way out.

A Johannesburg anesthetist has invented a small hand-operated resuscitator which pumps the amount of air needed to inflate babies' lungs for the first time.

The doctor perfected the new air pump in conjunction with the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at Witwatersrand University.

The pump consists of a rubber bulb, a small plastic barrel and two valves to regulate the flow of air or oxygen. It can be used with a facepiece or a tube into the windpipe. The pump is described as being so foolproof it can safely be used by people trained in first-aid, such as ambulance drivers.

Wives in Haiti Plagued by Fear of Supernatural and Voodooism

the highly litigious staff and officials and the placing of houses on dany the jumbi. But some nightfall, throughout the islands of the Greater and Lesser Antilles, cabin and frame-dwelling doors are locked and windows shuttered — not, withstanding the heat — to guard against the incursion of the jumbi.

Fetich Act
This is a safeguarding act of widespread practice to ward off the spirit, a fetich act not universal but adhered to primarily among the older. Funeral processions, as they make their way through cities, towns and hamlets, are shuttled, and but-decked communities are occasional when stores, shops and homes along the line of march are shuttered. Hurricane doors are shut — not only in respect to the dead, but to prevent the entry of the jumbi who has possessed the deceased.

Certain herbs and plants, a r used in some homes to ward off the all-prevailing jumbi, and there are many exorcises to propitiate the evil spirit.

"Obediab" is difficult to explain, and assess it is perhaps something, no continental — a white Statesider — can ever fully comprehend or appreciate. But it has overtones of a belief in the supernatural — in the existence of a being which must be placated.

Curse Practice
An extension of "obediab" gives power to the practitioner to inflict harm and injury on a foe; to cause illness among others and power to put a curse on an enemy or neighbor. In Haiti, especially, this is a rite stemming from the practice of some African natives of sticking pins in effigies to cause harm or death to the object of the "obediab."

In the West Indies, such a curse to be effective, must be known by the intended victim.

Anthropologists have written much of this practice, but in Haiti, and some of the more remote sections of the Antilles, this "no tification" takes two forms.

Agriculture Unit to Change Some Functions

State Department Will Realign Part of Its Activities

The Wisconsin Department of Agriculture has announced it is realigning the duties and functions of some of its divisions with a view toward greater efficiency and a lower cost per unit of work. The move will result in the transfer of the activities of two divisions, dairy and food, to one newly created division.

Under the move, which was approved by the State Board of Agriculture, most of the present work of the two divisions will be transferred to the new unit. The latter division, which will be named later, then will cover the fields of dairy and food, weights and measures, labeling and a variety of trade practice activities.

The dairy products grading section will be shifted to the market division to become the major function of the dairy commodity section.

The realignment of responsibilities and the creation of the new division will become effective Aug. 1 upon the retirement of Harvey J. Weavers, chief of the dairy and food division since 1946.

Greater Efficiency
Director D. N. McDowell said the shift would provide for greater efficiency in the use of personnel and offer closer unity between agriculture, business, industry and the consumer in the discharge of responsibilities.

It will also provide for expanded emphasis and coordination of consumer services within and between divisions of the department and will enable us to work closely with municipalities in all interrelated activities, McDowell stated.

McDowell indicated that a name for the combined divisions would be chosen after the legislature acts on the proposed name change for the entire department. The Board of Agriculture, at its March meeting, voted to ask for a change from the Wisconsin State Department of Agriculture to the Wisconsin State Department of Agriculture, Food and Trade.

Paper Corporation Announces Quarterly Sales and Earnings

DAYTON, Ohio—Net sales of The Mead Corp. for the 13 weeks ended March 31, were $110,743,207. Net sales for the corresponding period in 1962 were $109,404,266.

Earnings for the 13 weeks of 1963 amounted to $3,201,260, equal after preferred dividends to 57c per share on the 5,545,041 Common Shares, the average outstanding during the period.

This compares with $3,880,330 for the thirteen weeks ended April 1, 1962, after preferred dividends, the earnings per share were 69c on 5,507,412 Common Shares, the average outstanding during this comparable period.

For comparative purposes, the 1962 earnings have been restated to reflect, by quarters, the effects of the Federal Income Tax Investment Credit and changed depreciation policy for financial reporting recorded in the fourth quarter.

Points observed include whether a youngster rides close to the curb, sits on the seat and has no riders, does not overload basket, uses bike paths when available, courteousness, walks bike at busy intersections and general safety features of the bike such as light, reflector, brakes and warning bell or horn.

Kennedys Won't Use New Home for Awhile

BY FRANCES LEWINE
ATOKA, Va. (AP) — Workmen have put the stucco exterior on the new weekend home President and Mrs. Kennedy are building in the Virginia hunt country.

Though the home Mrs. Kennedy planned with such care is nearing completion, it now looks as though its owners won't get to use it for some time.

Mrs. Kennedy, expecting a third child, has announced she will go to Cape Cod sometime in May to remain in seclusion until her child is born in late August.

There's also the problem now that the Kennedys built their home with just two bedrooms planned for the two children they already have, Caroline, 5, and John Jr., 2.

There's no room set aside for any more children unless they double up, use the guest room next to that of the President or take up one of two rooms in a maid's wing. The Kennedys will have to do some space juggling in the 7-bedroom, 5½-bath new home.

Other Decisions
Homebuilder Jacqueline Kennedy, meanwhile, has some other decisions still to make about decor. Once the suntan-colored, hand-applied exterior stucco has dried, she'll have to tell the painters what color trim she wants.

Inside, the colors for every one of the 10 rooms, kitchen and baths will require the First Lady's attention. The word from the White House, though, is that it is "basically going to be white."

There is also the matter of bookshelves for the library, a cozy room with a fireplace, but no place as yet for the Kennedys' books.

Weekend Retreat
The weekend retreat, scenically located high on a hill known as Rattlesnake Mountain, is being built with much secrecy. It has been off limits to reporters and photographers, protected round the clock by the Secret Service.

Turning in off route 36 at Atoka and following the Atoka road about a mile, the tourist can get a glimpse of the Kennedy home, nestled amid a stand of trees and

$500,000 Sewer Project Scheduled To Get Underway

Street Sanitation Committee Hears Bues Outline Project

Within the next few weeks, Appleton will have more than a half million dollars worth of new sewer or construction underway in various parts of the community.

The common council's street sanitation committee received the report from Public Works Director Robert W. Bues and his assistant, Donald Bangs, when it met at city hall Monday afternoon.

The committee reviewed the projects scheduled for 1963 as a result of a $1.3 million bond issue floated by the city.

Avenue Plans

However, it was indicated no major work is scheduled for College Avenue. The committee hinted it would be about three years before the avenue is completely reconstructed with sewer and pavement.

Bues did disclose that during the winter months a member of the city engineering department staff surveyed the College Avenue business district and laid out the locations of all existing buildings.

"Nothing more will be done this year on the College Avenue project because we will be concentrating on sewer construction," Bues said. "The committee concurred in the projects underway and timetables for each."

Open Bids

The board of public works was scheduled to open bids on the Badger Avenue sewer construction work this afternoon. After sewers are installed, the plans will reconstruct the avenue.

"We are definitely moving along well with our sewer construction plans," Bangs informed the committee.

He and Bues gave assurance the proposed $500,000 Walnut Street sewer project would be on schedule once it is launched this fall. The engineering department has revised its estimates on the work and reduced the cost by about $25,000.

Winter Work

There is a definite tie-in with the Walnut Street, Packard Street and Badger Avenue sewer projects, the committee was told. Because of the nature of the work, construction of sewer tunnels along Walnut will continue through the winter months.

"During discussion, it was disclosed that a few blocks of College Avenue would have to be torn up in connection with the Walnut Street job to make certain sewer connections."

Heavy Schedule

Bues told the committee that because of the heavy load of work scheduled for the summer and fall, any planning concerning College Avenue would be at a standstill.

"I wouldn't worry about College Avenue until a complete overall plan has been set up to develop it," Bues said.

Ald. Donald Mueller (17th) appeared before the committee and requested that a $50,000 storm sewer project for Drew Street be included in this year's work.

"I want to schedule concrete for next year because the street is going to be pieces," Mueller said. The committee said it would give the project consideration.

Rodent Control Program Asked For Appleton

Local Firm Will be Contracted for Work; Await Council Okay

A city wide rodent control program, which would be handled by a private firm working through the health department, has been recommended for Appleton.

Meeting at city hall Monday afternoon, the common council's street sanitation committee concurred in a health department proposal that Wil-Kil Pest Control, Appleton, be contracted at $50 per month ($600 a year) to carry out the program.

At present, a limited rat control program is maintained on an annual basis by the city sanitation department. The council has made an annual appropriation of $400, which only covers the cost of materials used in controlling rodents.

More Effective

Donald Day, health department sanitarian, said in a letter to the committee that he thought the health department's proposed control program would be more effective than what is presently performed.

The overall cost will be less than if the city was to supply identical services," Day said. Committee members and Public Works Director Robert W. Bues agreed with him.

Under the proposed contract with the pest control firm, alleys, dumps and specific harborage areas to be inspected and serviced twice a month. The control activities would be concentrated on municipally-owned buildings and open areas.

Contact Owners

When health department inspectors have reason to believe rodents exist inside homes, owners will be contacted. The private firm will make a maximum of 25 home service calls when instructed to do so by the health department.

There will be a $1 charge for each call over 25.

"If the council approves this, the city will have a systematic program for rodent control," Bues commented.

The local firm carries $500,000 in $1,000,000 in public liability insurance, and has $100,000 property damage coverage.

OSHKOSH — John McBriar, 23, Madison, was fined $200, and costs or 60 days in the county jail plus a 90 day suspension of his driver's license by County Judge James Sitter today after he pleaded guilty of speeding 100 miles an hour on U.S. 41 during the daytime. He was arrested April 5 by state police.

Four Youths Injured When Car Hits Canal West of Winneconne

OSHKOSH — Two Winneconne and two rural Larsen youths were injured Monday night when their car left Mueller Road, two miles west of Winneconne, and went into a drainage canal.

Taken to Mercy Hospital for treatment of head cuts and bruises were John Anderson, 16, route 1, Larsen, driver of the car, and three passengers: Michael Johnson, 16, route 1, Larsen; Kathleen Markler, 14, and Sharon Luchke, 15, both Winneconne.

Anderson told county police he reached through the steering wheel of the car to turn on the windshield wipers and his sleeve became caught and the car went out of control. The accident happened at about 9:15 p.m.

Register Tape Shows Even Machines Have Bad Days

To reach for perfection, even in an era of massive machine calculation, is much like grasping for a fistful of fog.

Consider, for instance, a story printed in the Post-Crescent the other day which reported on a routine audit of 13 places which handle municipal cash in Wichita, Kan. Books balanced at 12 where employees handle the money. The 13th was short. It was a change-making machine in a city parking lot.

Now a Post-Crescent reader sends in a cash register slip from an Appleton supermarket.

John Torinus Given St. Norbert's Journalism Achievement Award

Post-Crescent Editor Cited for Outstanding Contributions to Community, Education

GREEN BAY — John B. Torinus, editor of the Appleton Post-Crescent and vice president of the Post Publishing Company, received the St. Norbert College Achievement Award for outstanding service in journalism at the annual student publications banquet at the Town and Country Club here Monday night.

Torinus is the seventh recipient of such an award from the college.

The presentation was made by the Rev. Dennis M. Burke, O. Praem, college president. Father Burke noted Torinus's long association with the college, first with the Green Bay Press-Gazette and now with the Post-Crescent.

"Highest Loyalty"

Torinus is a member of the Green Bay - DePere area Citizens Committee for St. Norbert and is chairman of the public relations committee on the college's development council.

The citation noted Torinus' "highest loyalty to Christian ideals, his country and his community," the "greatest versatility in securing and reporting of community news in an objective, interesting and consistent manner." It also pointed out how "over a period of years he has given freely of his efforts, time, abilities and counsel."

Former Winner

David Yuenger, Press-Gazette managing editor and himself a former winner of the award, was the principal speaker and he spoke on the increasing complexity of the demands of brainpower among people in the communications field to report and interpret news events. He noted that the improvements in communications have made the field, not only more complex, but have created a problem of vastness in the volume of material from which an editor can select news.

He said modern interpretive news reporting constitutes a real challenge to those interested in entering the field.

Three Children Hurt in Menasha Auto Collisions

Three children were injured in high way accidents Monday in Menasha.

Eight-months-old Jeffrey Sprenger, 225 Madison St., Menasha, received a cut on his face when the car in which he was a passenger, driven by Mary F. Walker, 538 Broad St., Menasha, collided with a car driven by Herman J. Madel, 34, 2219 Harrison St., Neenah, at the intersection of Garfield and Washington Streets shortly after 2:30 p.m.

One-year-old Carolyn Coons, 954 Cecil St., Neenah, received a bump on the head when the car in which she was a passenger, driven by Philip L. Coons, 20, struck a bicycle on Ahnapp Street ridden by 1-year-old Bill Reynolds, 457 Ahnapp St., Menasha.

The bicyclist received a sore right leg from the collision.

Police said Coons was traveling on the inside lane of Ahnapp Street when the youngster came from between the two cars in the path of the vehicle.

Former Appleton Store Operator Put on Probation

The president of a now-defunct Appleton radio and television store, Charles Meyer, 35, Madison, has been placed on probation for three years to the state department of public welfare.

Meyer formerly headed the Fox Valley Stereo Center, Inc., 125 E. Wisconsin Ave., and was charged with theft of $375 by the Lapping Electric Co. of Milwaukee.

According to the complaint against Meyer, the Milwaukee electric firm placed equipment for display in Meyer's store. When the equipment was sold, the money was not turned over to the Milwaukee firm.

Charges were brought against Meyer in April, 1962, and the case was disposed of Friday by County Judge Gustave Keller. Meyer did not appear in court but pleaded guilty through his attorney. The case had been continued five times, three times after Meyer had a heart attack, last year.

Meat Cutters May Strike at Two Stores

Union Seeks $11 A Week Pay Hike Over Three Years

A strike by 12 members of Meat Cutters Local 73 at the Doering Super Valu stores in Appleton and Kaukauna may be temporarily postponed, it was learned at noon today.

Gordon Gill, attorney for the supermarkets, said he sent a telegram to the union saying he would like to meet with labor representatives on May 7 or 8. It is not possible to meet earlier, he said.

The workers were scheduled to go on strike Wednesday morning. Gill said there is a good chance of a settlement and that the company is willing to negotiate one more day in order to avert a strike.

The strike was approved after contract negotiations for a three-year contract to go into effect in July broke off, the union said. The union is asking for wage increases for journeymen meat cutters of $11 a week over the three-year period.

Employees affected are meat cutters and other union employees who work in the store's meat departments.

Gordon Loehr, business representative of Meat Cutters Local 73 said today the contract under which the employees have been working expired in July, 1962, and negotiations have been carried on since for a new contract.

Pay Welfare Costs

The union is asking for a wage of $107 a week for journeymen, an increase of $5 a week in the first year of the contract, $11 in the second year, and $13 in the third year.

The contract also would have the employer pay the employee's entire health and welfare plan costs of $21 a month.

The 12 employees now have a 40-hour week, six paid holidays and one week vacation after one year of employment, two weeks after two years, three weeks after 10 years and four weeks after 20 years.

The union said it is asking no changes involving these matters.

The Appleton store employees voted two months ago to be represented by the meat cutters union in contract negotiations. The store was opened last fall.

Mental Health Drive Planned

Outagamie Drive Opens Next Week House-to-House

The house-to-house solicitation for the Outagamie County Mental Health Association fund drive will take place during the second week in May in Appleton.

Materials for the drive were distributed at a meeting of ward chairmen, headed by Mrs. Alfred Oliver, Appleton.

At this meeting, Mrs. C. L. Meyers of the Outagamie County Mental Health Association board spoke of growing awareness of the need for more rehabilitation services for people released from mental hospitals. The Outagamie Mental Health Association has stated that one of the uses to which funds collected will be put is further study of rehabilitation for mental patients, an area of increasing concern here and all over the nation.

Ward chairmen in Appleton are Mrs. I. B. Kindem, Mrs. George D. Greerson, Mrs. Robert Duncan, Mrs. Raymond LeVee, Mrs. Leonard Weis, Mrs. Paul Gelbke, Mrs. Donald Bartlett, Mrs. C. L. Meyers, Mrs. Willis Babb, Mrs. Edward Euhlein, Mrs. Edward Dahl, Mrs. J. P. Mohr, Mrs. Marlin Kagen, Mrs. Dennis Bacal and Mrs. Richard Haas.

Doctors to Build New Clinic in Menasha Town

OSHKOSH — Dr. James S. Gmeiner and Dr. William Richards of Appleton were granted a building permit today for $77,000 clinic and doctor's office on an extension of Valley Road in the Town of Menasha.

The clinic will be a one-story building 50 by 72 feet in size.

The contractor is John Perich Construction Co. of Appleton.

The permit was issued by Carl Mailahn, County Zoning Officer, upon approval of the project by Edwin P. Harold, Town of Menasha assessor and building inspector.

Proxmire to Speak At Oshkosh Area Business Conference

OSHKOSH — Sen. William Proxmire will speak at the Oshkosh Industry Business Opportunities Conference May 11 at the Oshkosh YMCA.

Police Department Change Requested

Appleton Chief Wants 4 Captains, 2 More Detectives, Inspector

Police Chief Earl O. Wolff has recommended major organizational changes in the Appleton Police Department, calling for the appointment of an inspector, four captains and two additional detectives.

Wolff, whose department now is comprised of 70 men and is just two short of its maximum authorized strength, made his recommendations Monday at a meeting of the fire and police commission at the city hall.

Specific recommendations to be considered by the commission:

Inspector Position

Create the position of inspector, making the latter second in command of the department. He would take charge in the chief's absence. Have four captains who would supervise the field operations on their respective shifts. The captain would inspect, evaluate, supervise and be available to answer questions and render decisions in the everyday operation of the department.

Add two men to the detective bureau because annual reports from 1958 through 1962 show that 37 to 46 per cent of the total complaints registered with the department are the type normally requiring follow-up work by detectives. There are six detectives now.

Number Cut

The police department had an inspector for many years but the position was discontinued sometime ago when the inspector resigned.

When Capt. Alfred Gosch resigned from the department in April, it cut the number of captains to one.

"Adequate supervision is an essential and important part of any organizational structure," Chief Wolff told the commission.

"Since our field supervision is limited," he added, "the recommendations I have listed would provide for three additional supervisory personnel (captains), thus increasing the supervisory number from 15 to 18."

Officers Elected

Wolff said three additional captains would provide the department with field supervision around the clock.

Fire Chief Roland Kuehn also attended the session and the commission discussed the fire department's leave of absence policy.

In other action, commission officers were elected for the ensuing year and include: Atty. Patrick Coughlin, president, and George C. Dame, secretary. Both were re-elected. Other commissioners are Martin M. Unnuth, Kurt Koltzke and Helm Huszner.

Year-Old Charged With Le-River Fatal Shooting

IVER (AP)—An Illinois mute, when arrested at Eagle River Memorial Hospital a few minutes after being admitted late Monday night, his wife, Mabel, 57, was reported in fair condition, suffering from shock and a hip wound.

Sheriff James Skalecki said Knodle was arrested at 2:15 a.m. after a bloodhound and a posse had trailed him for two and a half miles across the country. The dog picked up the trail at a point where the Schmidt automobile was found abandoned after it became stalled on a logging road near the spot where Knodle had been camping on the Wisconsin River.

No Statement

The sheriff said Mrs. Schmidt related she and her husband were in bed around 9:30 Monday night when she heard a noise and the back door open and thought the wind had blown it open. She said she went to the door and found it ajar and that as she prepared to close it, a shotgun barrel came into the opening and she was wounded by a blast at close range.

She fled to another room while her husband came from the bedroom and was shot in the back.

Mrs. Schmidt managed to flee down basement steps, crawl out of a window and run a quarter mile to a neighbor's in her night clothes.

When officers arrived, they found Schmidt still alive and took him to the hospital. The Schmidt car was missing.

It was later found stalled in snow and mud. After the use of a dog was obtained and set on the trail, officers heard a shot and it was believed at first that Knodle had wounded himself. However, a closer examination revealed he apparently fired to warn off the posse and was struck in the mouth and jaw by the weapon's recoil. He was carried from the area in an ambulance and admitted to the hospital, where he was later released for transfer to the jail.

No Statement

Officers said Knodle had made no statement and apparently was under sedation. They said they found several tranquilizing pills on his person and in a bottle which had labels bearing his name and prescriptions.

Officers said Knodle apparently had been in the area for a week or so. They said his car was found parked along Highway 45 north of Eagle River several days ago and a traffic officer found a note in it stating Knodle had run out of gas and would pick it up the following day. The vehicle was still there the next day along with another note stating Knodle would pick it up May 1.

The vehicle was towed to the sheriff's office.

Authorities said Knodle apparently had driven the Schmidt car to the site of his camp, and drove away with the shotgun and some food.

He was due for appearance in court this afternoon.

Travel on U. S. 41
Increases 40 Per Cent
Over 11-Year Period

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The rapid growth of traffic in the central Fox River Valley is demonstrated in a state highway commission study showing that vehicle movement south of De Pere on U.S. Highway 41 increased about 40 per cent from 1950 to 1961.

The state's traffic counter showed a daily average of vehicles there of 5,114 in 1961, against 3,049 11 years earlier.

The breakdown of vehicles on a typical day showed 83.58 per cent passenger cars, including nearly 15 per cent passenger cars of foreign make, and the rest commercial vehicles.

Petitions Filed for Better Trash Program

More Expected Calling for Weekly
Pickup; Trial Proposed for 17th Ward

The first in what is expected to be a series of petitions calling on city officials to improve the municipal trash pickup service have been filed with City Clerk Elden Broehm at city hall.

Approximately 90 residents of the 17th Ward signed petitions over the weekend, and they were presented for common council consideration by Ald. Donald Mueller.

In a story Sunday, the Post-Crescent disclosed a group of irate housewives are mapping a citywide campaign to get signatures on petitions calling for more than the present once-a-week trash and rubbish pickup.

Public Works Director Robert Bues, who came to Appleton from Rhineland on March 1, said he has not had a chance to study the city's overall trash and garbage pickup program and would withhold comment until he does.

There have been unconfirmed reports making the rounds at city hall in recent months that the street-sanitation department has been using one area of the city as the basis for a study and report to be made to the appropriate council committees.

The 17th Ward residents said the purpose of their petition was to promote improvement of trash removal by the city. An overwhelming majority of the signers were housewives.

Trial Program

The petitioners claim that Ald. Mueller has devised a plan that calls for weekly trash pickup throughout the City of Appleton.

"To test this plan," they said, "he has suggested a trial program in the 17th Ward."

Earlier in the month, Mueller introduced a resolution in the common council asking for a pilot project on trash pickup in his ward but it was referred to committee where no action has been taken to date.

Presumably, the board of public works and the street-sanitation committee, would have to be the recommending bodies concerning any type of an improved pickup program.

The petitioners said the Appleton Junior Women's Club favored Ald. Mueller's proposal.

Citywide Petition

There has been some indication that the women's group is preparing to launch a major citywide petition-circulating project to press for better trash and rubbish pickup service.

City officials have been under fire periodically because of the fact that the city has but one regular neighborhood trash pickup per month.

In the late 1940's the Appleton League of Women Voters sparked a community-wide campaign to have the city provide municipal garbage pickup. The matter came to a referendum after hundreds of petitions were filed and the electorate by a wide margin favored a municipal garbage pickup program.

Policemen Plan
To Observe Their
Week May 12-18

Appleton Police Chief E. O. Wolff said today that his department will observe Police Memorial Day, May 15, the highlight of a nationally sponsored Police Week, May 12-18.

Wolff has contacted other chiefs in the Fox Cities area and said plans are being developed to hold a commemorative service in one of the Fox Cities under the sponsorship of a hosting police department.

Wolff has contacted chiefs in Kaukauna, Neenah and Menasha and said all have been receptive to the idea. County Traffic Police Capt. Ronald Decker indicated to Wolff today his department was anxious to take part in the ceremony.

Police Week was made official by the signature of Pres. Kennedy Oct. 1, 1962 on a resolution calling for the observance of Peace Officers Memorial Day and Police Week.

Miller, Kuhr Winners in K-C 'Idea' Program

Head Materials
Handler Receives
First-Place Award

NEENAH — Melvin F. Miller, 1183 N. Lake St., Neenah, received the outstanding idea award, and Roy Kuhr, 613 Hansen St., Neenah, a special award at the Kimberly-Clark Neenah Mill Idea Plan program marking the first anniversary of the project.

The corporation's Idea Plan, inaugurated March 5, 1961, provides for special awards at the end of each year of the program. Among them is the year's outstanding idea. This award gave Miller two shares of Kimberly-Clark stock, an engraved cigarette lighter and a plaque. The program also provides for an award to the employee who has five or more ideas accepted during a year. Although there was no 1962-63 winners in this category, the corporate idea plan committee decided to give a special award in recognition of the first anniversary. Kuhr received this award as he had had four accepted ideas. Miller is head materials handler at Neenah Mill, Kuhr is a Delsey unit tender.

Twenty-nine foremen also received awards under the plan's provision that foremen at the end of each year, become eligible for an amount equal to 10 per cent of the idea awards of the men in their units.

John C. Wollwage, vice president, who made the presentations to Kuhr and Miller, told the assembled group that the Idea Plan is an important job tool.

Probe Set on Marine's Ouster

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Republican House member says the House Armed Services Committee will investigate the ouster of a former Marine officer who says he took part in a hush-hush attempt to dispose of the body of a Cuban shot to death outside the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo.

Rep. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., said Monday after conferring with committee Chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., that the committee staff will "immediately start an investigation" of the case of former Marine Lt. William A. Szili. But Vinson declined comment on either the case or prospects for an investigation.

10 Factors

Area of Study in Engineering Survey of Airport Decided Upon

OSHKOSH — The final draft of the letter containing the area of study to be covered in the engineering survey of Winnebago County Airport was approved Monday night by the County Board Aviation Committee. Copies will now be sent to the four firms under consideration for the job.

The final formal was worked out by Dist. Atty. Jack Steinboer and Douglas Hyde of the Neenah-Menasha Chamber of Commerce Airport Committee. Several changes suggested by Hyde were incorporated into the letter with little objection from the county committee.

The engineering firms are instructed in the letter that the study should include a technical evaluation of the airport covering three basic questions:

1. What are the long-range operating demands of the facility?
2. What is the status of the facility under these demands relative to acceptable and desirable levels of safety, convenience and economy?
3. Are other alternatives more practical?

The third question was added at the suggestion of Hyde. The words "long range" in the first question and "desirable" in the second question also were added.

The engineering firms also are instructed that 10 basic factors should be considered in determining the answers to the three questions. Those factors are:

1. Types of aircraft now in use and which may be reasonably anticipated in the future.
2. Operating requirements of such aircraft.
3. Actual and long range anticipated level of aircraft activity.
4. Existing airport facilities.
5. Maximum aircraft acceptance rate.
6. Analysis of ground approach and departure zone environment.
7. Adequacy as a regional airport for carrier service.
8. Airport evaluation in terms of F.A.A. standards of safety.
9. Recommended future improvements (additional facilities and/or expansion) with due consideration given to the factors of convenience, safety and economy.
10. Estimated costs of such improvements, and any alternatives which may be considered.

Plan for Future

"In short," the letter concluded, "the aviation committee desires to obtain a sound engineering basis upon which to plan for the future aviation needs of Winnebago County."

As much use as possible of data provided by Systems Analysis and Research Corp., which is doing an economic survey of the airport, is recommended by the committee.

Alvin Staffeld, committee chairman, also brought up the possibility of updating the airport master plan but it was decided not to include it in the cost estimate requests from the engineering firms. The airport master plan was last updated in 1961.

One of the four engineering firms will be hired on the basis of replies to the committee's letter, the committee decided.

KVS to Offer Motors Class

KAUKAUNA — A short, intensive five-week course in trouble shooting and minor repair or replacement techniques of power plant and auxiliary motor units will get underway at 7 p.m. Wednesday at the School of Vocational and Adult Education.

Classes will be two hours long and instructor will be William Mittlestedt. The course is designed for service station or garage mechanics. Reservations are being accepted by calling the school.

The initial class will utilize electronic equipment to locate trouble in motor, batteries, plugs, distributors and timing. The second class will deal with replacing parts such as generators, starters and regulators. The third class will deal with alternators, carburetors and fuel pumps.

The fourth class will deal with brakes, cooling systems, gauges and transmissions, and the final class will deal with sales technique including customer handling, motivation, good will, remembering names and other hints.

Appleton Hearing

City Trying Of Barricade

City officials will hold a hearing 8:00 p.m. on whether Street should be permitted to traffic at the intersection of Memorial Drive.

The controversial street matter came up at a meeting of the common council's transportation committee Monday.

After receiving an opinion from City Atty. Frederick Klein, the committee decided to hold a hearing at 8:00 p.m. of Front Street in the fall.

Menasha Mayor To Ask for Ban Uninspected

MENASHA — Mayor Klein, this morning said he will write to all Menasha grocers asking that they do not sell meat products from outside area that have not been inspected.

The mayor apparently had been in the Fox Cities area, in the past, have sold or pork products to grocers.

Mayor Klein said he had tried to get an inspection set up in the city.

Under present law Menasha has no facilities for inspection of meat products.

Klein said he is "very ed" about the problem of meat being sold in the city.

Klein did not indicate the ban would include poultry products. Presumably cover only beef and pork.

"It was my opinion that the city could close off Front Street temporarily according to the resolution passed by the council Sept. 19, 1962," Froehlich said.

He added that the common council recently inquired whether the city could legally barricade the street permanently without a hearing to do so. "It is my opinion that the answer to this question is 'no'," Froehlich said.

Ald. R. P. Groh (8th), in whose ward the barricade is located, said recently all residents residing on Front Street favored the street closing and that he would present a petition with their names affixed to it at the appropriate time.

GOP Caucus Will Hear Endorsement Proposals

State Chairman Candidates Will Attend;
Appleton Man Talking at Green Bay Session

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — Eighth district Republicans will receive a "briefing" of the stands for and against convention endorsement of candidates at their spring caucus Thursday night at the Northland hotel.

The state party convention in Oshkosh May 25 will vote on proposals that the practice of endorsing candidates be ended or changed. The state GOP convention endorses candidates for state-wide offices, which brings organization support if there is a September primary for the office.

Endorsement has come under fire from the 1962 election results because of the loss of Philip Kuehn in the gubernatorial election, after he won endorsement in a close race with former Lt. Gov. Warren Knowles, and because of the defeat of former Sen. Alexander Wiley.

Debate Issue
The Oshkosh convention will decide whether to keep endorsement as it is, whether to end it, or whether to accept a change requiring a 60 per cent vote instead of a bare majority to gain endorsement.

At the caucus Thursday night, former Rep. Glenn Davis, Waukesha, and former State Sen. Al Laun, Kiel, will present the case for endorsement. The other side will be presented by Urban Van Susteren and William Fisher, both of Appleton.

The caucus will not take a position on the question. Votes are on a county basis at the convention.

GOP Chairman
The caucus also will elect district officers.

The three candidates for State Republican Chairman are expected to campaign, at least informally, at the caucus. They are Talbot Peterson, Appleton, Carl Steiger, Oshkosh, and Floyd Springer, Racine.

The three are seeking the post being vacated by Claude Jasper. The State Republican Chairman is picked by the party's state executive committee.

Unlicensed Junk,
Wrecking Firms
Checked by Police

City officials are putting the pressure on previously unlicensed junk and auto-wrecking dealers to obtain permits this year for their business operations.

The Appleton Police Department and city health department have been cooperating in "following through" on complaints received from residents.

One wrecking company, which previously had no license, wrote to the city clerk's office Monday requesting one for the coming year. Police had sent the owner a letter informing him that complaints had been received from the neighbors.

Police indicated "three to four firms" have been notified in recent weeks that they have to obtain licenses.

Health department inspectors have also checked citizen complaints. They have issued orders to firms to "clean up the premises" when health matters have been concerned.

Police are clamping down on some of the unlicensed junk and wrecking firms under Section 175.25, which covers miscellaneous police powers.

Denies All Counts

Trial Starts for Youth Charged With 14 Traffic Violations

A jury of six men and six women began hearing testimony today in a court case charging an Appleton man with violation of 14 traffic ordinances, all of which allegedly occurred during a high speed chase by police last July.

Asst. Dist. Atty. James Bayorgeon is charging Gary Schuh, 21, 602 S. Westland Drive, with operating his car after his driver's license was revoked, three counts of speeding, eight counts of arterial violations, and separate counts of operating without his driver's license, and failure to yield right-of-way.

Schuh has pleaded innocent to all 14 counts and has been free after posting bonds amounting to $1,150. After Schuh's trial, he will face trial for another traffic violation, failure to dim his headlights. The alleged violation is not related to the July incident.

Sheriff Calvin Spice testified today that he was working as a county patrolman July 7 when he began chasing a car, later identified as Schuh's, from the outskirts of Appleton on State 96.

Through the northern section of the city and north to U.S. 41 where the driver eluded police.

Found Car
Spice testified that he recognized the driver as Schuh, and was able to copy down the automobile license number. After he lost the car, Spice went to Schuh's house, found the car and impounded it. Schuh was arrested the following night by Appleton police.

The chase, which according to testimony included speeds up to 100 miles an hour, involved policemen from Little Chute, Kaukauna, Appleton and the county patrol.

Also testifying today were Frank Krueger, a sheriff's department radio operator on duty at the time of the incident, Tom Janssen, a Little Chute policeman and James Egan, Kaukauna policeman.

Witness Excused
One witness, Rick Priebe, a radio station disc jockey and high school student, was declared a hostile witness by County Judge Gustave Keller and was excused from the stand.

Priebe was questioned by Spice July 7 after he was found in Schuh's car at Schuh's home. Priebe was taken to the courthouse along with the car and a statement was taken from him.

Priebe claimed today that he had been threatened with arrest at the time he made the statement. Bayorgeon moved that Priebe be dismissed from the stand and his motion was accepted by Judge Keller.

Testimony for the prosecution is expected to be completed this afternoon.

Public Schools Set Summer Program

day, July 3, with classes reconvening the following Monday. In order to make up the time lost on Friday, July 5, classes will be in session from 8 a.m. to noon on the preceding Saturday, June 29. This Saturday meeting is necessary in order to accumulate the 120 hours of instruction which is the minimum required by the North Central Association if a unit credit is to be given at the secondary level for summer school participation.

13 Courses
Thirteen senior high school courses, two of them new, will be offered in summer school. The new courses will be in world geography and American history, with a limit of 30 pupils each.

A course in personal typing will be offered to a limit of 140 pupils in grades eight through 12 who will not enroll in a business education course at the senior high school level. Priority will be given to 12th grade pupils and so on down to eighth grade. This has been one of the most popular summer school classes.

Geometry, Art
Geometry will be offered for ninth through 12th grade pupils. The course is designed for ninth graders who have taken algebra and wish to follow an accelerated mathematics program through 12th grade, and for pupils who have failed 10th grade geometry or need it to fulfill a requirement.

Art will be offered for 50 pupils as an enrichment subject for those who find it difficult to enroll in a fine arts course during the regular school year. Algebra will be given for 30 pupils.

Tenth and 11th grade English will be offered for pupils who failed to acquire the necessary background in these courses during the regular school year. A course in English grammar, composition and creative writing is designed to strengthen the pupils' skills in these areas.

Carpentry Classes
Courses in carpentry and type-setting are planned for boys who are interested in this area and cannot take these electives during the regular school year. A course in basic nutrition similarly is planned for girls who do not have time to take home arts courses during the school year.

A music program in winds and strings is planned for all pupils from Intermediate II on strings, and Intermediate III on winds through grade 12. Several large public presentations by this group are being planned as part of the summer activities.

The junior high program will have eight courses, including typing at the senior high school.

English, Government
A new junior high communications course in English grammar, composition, creative writing and speaking is planned as an enrichment course. It will replace the earth science course offered last year, which will be covered more thoroughly during the regular school year in the expanded junior high science program.

Courses in ninth grade English and government are planned primarily for pupils who did not satisfactorily complete them during the year. An enrichment course for those with a high aptitude and interest in art will be offered for 50 pupils.

Arithmetic Study
Other junior high courses will be algebra, review arithmetic and, tentatively, development in reading. The review arithmetic course for 7th and 8th graders of average or better potential who need to strengthen their basic concepts in arithmetic was new last summer and was very successful, Spears said.

Six elementary courses, three of them new will be offered. Also new will be the use of a summer school librarian, who will work at Edison and Franklin schools.

The new courses, in addition to the pilot program in reading, will be in speaking and writing and in art. The speaking and writing course, limited to 50 pupils, is planned for selected pupils with high ability, interest and aptitude for language. Instruction will be geared to the creative rather than the merely utilitarian aspect of communication. The course will replace the modern mathematics and earth science programs offered last year.

Other Instruction
The art class will have a limit of 80 pupils. It is designed for selected pupils with the ability to profit from an enrichment program in art. Classes will meet each morning for a two-hour session for a two-week period, using the art and craft facilities at Morgan School. The first session will be from June 10 through 21, and the second from June 24 through July 3.

Other elementary classes will be in reading, with a limit of 150 pupils; in speech, with a limit of 50 pupils, and in review arithmetic, with a limit of 90 pupils. The speech course is planned for

2 Fox Valley Center Students Attend UW Medical Career Day

Two pre-medical students at the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center attended a pre-medical career day sponsored by the UW medical school in Madison Saturday.

Timothy Brickham, Winneconne, a sophomore, and J. Peter Ryerson, Appleton, a freshman, attended the career day, accompanied by Miss Lila Locksmith, advisor to students at the center.

About 150 students from other colleges attended the career day, which included a three-hour tour of the School of Medicine and nine demonstrations. The tour was followed by a refreshment period, during which students were free to question second year medical students, who were in charge of the tour under Dr. Robert Coyle, acting dean of the medical school.

pupils who have exhibited speech deficiencies identified by the speech therapist and who need a continuous program through the summer months. The review arithmetic course was introduced successfully last year, Spears said.

Wisconsin Rapids Ready to Become Fox Cities No. 1 Rival

Split Verdict Gives Dupas World Crown
Gains Decision In 15-Rounder With Denny Moyer

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—"I still can't believe it," said Ralph Dupas, who won the world's junior middleweight title by training on the red beans and rice for which New Orleans is famed.

Homecoming, with lots of ice cream—was what the 27-year-old ring veteran ate in preparation for his title fight Monday night with Denny Moyer of Portland, Ore.

And Dupas showed more aggressiveness than usual in taking a 15-round split decision.

The third time proved the charm in Dupas' quest for a world title. Previously, the New Orleans scrapper had lost championship bouts to lightweight Joe Brown and welterweight Emile Griffith.

The close bout saw few telling blows landed by either fighter. Dupas, who has always fought best in the past over a 10-round route, made a surprisingly strong showing in the 15th. Moyer, on the other hand, is noted for strong finishes but faltered in the final round after taking the 13th and 14th.

Limit for Division
Dupas weighed 151, Moyer 154, the limit for the recently-created division.

Referee Pete Giarusso took the seventh away from Dupas for low blows. Giarusso openly warned Dupas once and said he cautioned him other times in the round.

When ring announcer Jack Dempsey called out the card of Judge Herman Dutreix—the first one read—seven rounds for Moyer, two even and six Dupas, the partisan crowd boomed.

Dupas looked startled. "I just couldn't believe it," he said afterwards. "I felt I had it all the way."

Then came judge Lucian Joubert's 8-5-2 card favoring Dupas while Giarusso called it nine for Dupas, four even and two for Moyer. The Associated Press card had a draw with 7-7-1.

As Dempsey announced the final card and doctored: "The new world's champion," Dupas, a Roman Catholic, dropped to his knees in the center of the ring, prayed and made the sign of the cross.

Moyer had no excuses and shed no tears. The handsome, 23-year-old who looks more like the boy next door than a boxer, said Dupas never hurt him.

Asked if he thought he had won, Moyer replied: "I thought it was close."

Alston Says He Has No Apologies To Make, His Conscience Is Clear

NEW YORK (AP)—Walt Alston may feel like a man with an axe hanging over his head, but he is losing any sleep over it.

Not so you can tell it, the balding, harassed manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers insisted after his team dropped its fourth in a row Monday night, bowing to the New York Mets at the Polo Grounds 4-2.

"How does it feel to read that you're on the griddle and that you may be fired at any minute?" the normally quiet-spoken former school teacher said in the tense Dodger dressing room after the game.

"Well, I'll tell you—I don't like it a doggone bit. But am I staying awake nights, worrying about it? I certainly am not. I have no apologies to make to anybody. My conscience is clear."

Unofficial Reports
During the past several weeks, the baseball market has been flooded with reports—many of them unofficial—that the Los Angeles team is rent with dissension and that Alston is on the verge of losing his job to his coach, Leo Durocher.

The reports reached such proportions that Buzzie Bavasi, the Dodgers' general manager, found it necessary to call a closed meeting of the players and warn them against criticizing their boss.

Bavasi acknowledged that complaints had come from some of the players and that Durocher had passed along some of the gripes.

"I don't want them telling me who should manage the club," Bavasi said.

Later, Bob Kennedy, head coach of the Chicago Cubs, predicted that Alston would lose his job if he lost a game during a recent series. The Dodgers lost the game but Alston kept his job. Kennedy reportedly sent Alston an apology.

Relations between Alston and Durocher were strained after Monday night's game. Not a word passed between them, although their dressing quarters were almost adjoining in the Polo Grounds' visitors locker room.

Durocher calmly combed his thinning hair while Alston, less than three feet away, answered the reporters' post-game grilling. The veteran Los Angeles manager's face reddened when the subject of team dissension and job security was brought up.

"Who says I'm in danger of losing my job?" Alston asked beligerently. "Not my bosses. Just about it? Ask them."

At this point, Bill Skowron, former Yankee and one of the newest of the Dodgers, broke in. "It's a stupid thing to talk to this man about," he said. "Why don't you knock it off."

Alston, 6-foot-2 and 210 pounds with little excess fat, refused to duck the issue.

Mets Hand Dodgers 4th Straight Defeat

Giants Nip Phils, 4-3; Angels Split

BY MIKE RATNET
Baseball, on the American Plan, had an international flavor today with the menu featuring a bunch of men in blue acting like Dutch windmills and a couple of guys wondering whether they'll have to climb into khakis in the Caribbean.

The umpires went into their windmill act again Monday night, waving the winning run home on a balk as the New York Mets defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2 in a historic game that insured the 1963 balk controversy its place in the record books.

At the same time, San Francisco outfielder Felipe Alou said after the Giants' 4-3 victory over Philadelphia that he and pitcher Juan Marichal might be recalled to military service with the Dominican Republic's armed forces because of their homeland's current crisis with Haiti.

The only other games in the national pastime were played at Los Angeles, where the Senators and Angels of the American League took turns walloping each other in a two-night doubleheader. The Senators won the opener 9-3, the Angels took the nightcap 13-8.

Games Postponed
Rain postponed the other games—Houston at Pittsburgh and Chicago at Cincinnati in the NL, and Baltimore at Minnesota and New York at Chicago in the AL.

Two runs were forced in by balks in the Mets-Dodgers game. The first, charged to New York starter Roger Craig, gave Los Angeles a 2-1 lead in the second inning. That held until the seventh when Ed Kranepool started a three-run rally with a double off Bob Miller. Charlie Neal then beat out a bunt. Kranepool scored the tying run on a wild pitch and Al Moran followed with a single that chased Miller.

Ed Roebuck came on in relief and balked while pitching to pinch hitter Marv Throneberry, sending Neal across with the deciding run. Jim Hickman's single drove in the final run, giving Craig a little extra working room as he went the distance with a seven-hitter.

The Balks were the 77th and 78th in the NL this season. The previous record was 76, set by the NL in 1950.

After the game, Mets Manager Casey Stengel scoffed at the latest directive issued by league

Good Conditions Expected for Trout Opening Saturday

Water Level to be lower Than Usual if Rain Holds Off

BY DICK McDANIEL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

WAUPACA—Unless mother nature should decide to balk and saturate the countryside with spring showers, trout fishermen should experience a record-breaking opening Saturday.

Conditions are ripe for a good harvest.

Waupaca and neighboring county streams are in peak condition. The water level is down from usual opening day levels and the conservation workers at the Wild Rose hatchery have been busy planting trout.

Spelled out in simple English, the dry spring will offer anglers all the benefits of late spring, with the exception being, their baits will have less competition from bugs and other natural feed for the trout.

The usual cloudy water is gone. There has not been enough rain to wash in silt from the fields into the streams and the water has maintained a good cool temperature.

Trout fishermen, many of whom have taken treks to their favorite streams for a pre-season recon-

Bragan Cheerful Despite Injuries

Shaw or Lemaster Slated To Hurl Against Simmons

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Milwaukee Braves' manager Bobby Bragan is cheerful, despite a series of injuries which has struck his team.

"We are a little short on personnel because of the injuries," he said as the Braves arrived in St. Louis for a game with the Cardinals.

Either Bob Shaw (0-1) or Denny Lemaster (0-0) will be on the mound for the Braves, going against Curt Simmons (0-1) for the Cardinals.

Shaw joined the ailing list recently, along with Eddie Mathews, and Joe Torre. In addition, Gus Bell has been lost to the team for at least six weeks and Roy McMillan is out, probably for a week or 10 days.

"Shaw's shoulder tightened while warming up in the bullpen at San Francisco Saturday, but he thinks he will be all right by game time. If he isn't, I am going to give Lemaster his first starting assignment — he has earned it."

Bragan said he was not very concerned about the groin injury which forced Mathews out of Sunday's game with the Giants.

"Eddie says he will play," Bragan said. "A minor injury won't sideline Eddie."

"There is a question about Torre. He had both right wrist and right thumb badly bruised in Saturday's game but he also thinks he can face the Cardinals. But we always have Del Crandall."

The manager said he plans to continue using Len Gabrielson in left field and to give Denis Menke as much work as possible.

Waupaca Man Sentenced for Panhandling

Post-Crescent News Service
DEPERE — Charged with panhandling, Irving Gutho, 38, Waupaca, was sentenced to 40 days at Brown County Reformatory Camp Monday night by Municipal Justice Neal Williams.

Arrested earlier in the day by DePere police, Gutho had $17 on his person, allegedly obtained under false pretenses from DePere residents.

Police Chief Hubert Baessen said Gutho visited a paragonage and told a convincing story of being destitute after his farm home burned to the ground. The minister's wife gave him $10. Police said he touched a second contact for $7 Monday before they ended his profitable career.

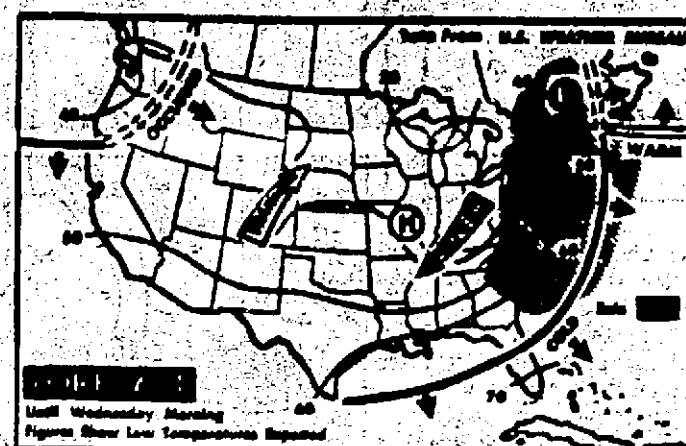

Chief Baessen said Gutho had carried on his panhandling at DePere before, but always had managed to get out of town before police could question him. Questioning showed Gutho did not have a farm home that burned to the ground and that he is not destitute, police said.

Given a choice by Justice Williams, Gutho chose 40 days in jail in preference to a fine of $75 and costs.

There has been a factor in the obvious improvement in confidence. Shelving the program could jolt confidence, about this new upswing.

The fundamental argument for tax reduction always has been that it is needed to spur our growth, create enough profits and pay checks to provide the taxes to bring the budget into balance. The argument is as valid today as ever.

Kaukauna Power Out

Heavy Windstorms Hit Valley, State, Nation

While tornadoes swept through the South and Midwest, high winds, snow, sleet, thunder and lightning and heavy rains hit Wisconsin, and wind damage and some power failures were reported in the Fox Valley.

Electrical power in Kaukauna and in parts of Little Chute and Combined Locks served by the Kaukauna Electrical and Water Dept. was periodically disrupted from about 10:30 p.m. Monday to 10:30 a.m. today.

Faulty electrical lines near the intersection of Outagamie County highways 2 and 22, were being blown together by the wind and were shorting, causing circuit breakers at Rapid Croche dam, near Wrightstown, to open, cutting off power.

Beloit Power Out

Norbert Rhinerson, head of the Kaukauna utility, and co-workers found the wire at about 10:30 a.m. Rhinerson said there still could be other faulty lines un-found, keeping service from being restored.

High winds and lightning knocked out power to more than 3,000 homes in Beloit early today. Power was restored by 8:30 a.m.

Winds up to 52 miles an hour knocked down power lines, ripped off roofing and uprooted trees in the Milwaukee area. Milwaukee and surrounding counties also were hit by snow. Many store display windows throughout the Milwaukee area were reported broken.

Power machines at Combined Locks Paper Co. were stopped

The Wisconsin-Michigan Power Co. said a line near the intersection of Franklin and Locust Streets in Appleton came down late Monday night, disrupting neighborhood service, but was repaired immediately.

Arcing Reported

Arriving from electrical lines to trees and downed television antennas were reported throughout the Fox Valley. The Appleton Street Dept. reported a tree down at the intersection of Winnebago and Brewster Streets. One Appleton business firm reported a sign down.

The power company, Appleton's cooperative observer from the weather bureau, recorded winds up to 50 m.p.h. in Neenah. W.N.A.M. Radio's Weatherscope report.

SALES, MEN—WOMEN 23

We Like A Man Who Can Look Us In The Eye!

We're looking for a winning personality with or without previous sales experience... but a man who's long on honesty, sincerity, and intelligence.

If you're this man, you'll be interested in selling our line of New 1963 Fords and our Used Cars. For a sales job with integrity counts because most of our sales come from previous customers.

If you're this man, we'll pay you a good commission. We'll give you live leads, solid advertising support, a fair share of floor time and thorough training.

If this permanent opportunity sounds like it's for you, come in and see:

AT GUSTMAN'S

MORE CARS BETTER CARS AND LOWER PRICES

OUR PROMISE TO YOU

Ever since 1929, for the past 34 long years, we at the Gustman used car centers have always endeavored to offer you both a larger and finer used car and used truck selection at consistently lower prices.

Right now, our four giant Used Car Centers have over 300 used cars and used trucks on display. And, without a doubt, they are definitely finer cars and trucks than you can find anywhere in N.E. Wisconsin or Upper Michigan.

We further promise to ALWAYS offer you the very best possible buys in both new and used cars and trucks. Now, during this big sales event, we certainly hope you'll take the time to stop in and see us. We'll do our very best to serve you better and save you more.

Republicans Back Pierce Again for National Committeeman

Rankings of county and state organizations until he was named to the national party command in 1964.

Statehouse Republicans, meanwhile, report that Carl Steiger of Oakbrook is probably "the man in the hat" in the developing contest for the Republican state chairmanship that results from the announced plan of Chairman Claude J. Jasper to retire.

Contrary to some published reports, and unlike the practice in the Democratic state organization, the chairmanship will not be decided at the Republican state convention. The selection will be made by the executive committee of the party, within a month after the state convention. The committee consists of district chairmen and vice chairmen of the party organization, and a handful of other party functionaries.

Most natural resource conservationists have before the legislature currently is the heavily pushed bill to prohibit the construction of a dam across the scenic Wolf River in Langlade County, which has aroused outdoor recreational interests and the-minded forces as has no other political question this year.

Assemblyman Paul Alfonso of Vilas county, Republican floor leader of the assembly and the usually influential chairman of its conservation committee, has said that he will vote against the bill. But the prospects are that it will be approved nevertheless.

The pressure for the measure is enormous. Langlade County stands virtually alone in its insistence upon its right to build the dam for recreational land development.

There is likely to be a revival of the "maverick" caucus within the Republican state senate majority on the taxing issue in this session.

Some of the Republican irregulars who bolted caucus discipline in earlier sessions, led by Sen. Chester Dempsey of Hartland, are threatening to vote against any higher taxes this year, including the Republican-sponsored sales tax bill.

Such a rebellion may be em-barreling, but it won't be fatal to the plans of the Republican majority leadership. A hard count has already shown 17 Republican legislators favoring the sales tax, which is enough to pass the measure.

The hard-headed recent endorsement by former Lt. Gov. Warren P. Knowles of a campaign for the U.S. senate next year was largely a hint of what the former statehouse Republican leader would want if he decides to return to the political arena.

But he has not yet decided to do so, according to his closest friends.

Most Republicans feel that Knowles would be their most effective candidate for governor. But he has shown no desire to return to that competition. What it boils down to is this: Knowles is a long way from being sure he wants to return to the political stage, but if he does, he would rather run for senator against Sen. William Proxmire than anything else.

The resistance to the R-Republican senate caucus to the assembly congressional reapportionment bill has been extremely annoying to the assembly Republican leadership, which regards it as a breakdown of the legislative liaison they worked hard to establish when the session began.

The assemblymen told the senators nearly two months ago of their congressional reapportionment plans. But when their bill was passed and sent to the senate, the upper house members were obviously unimpressed by it and some of them "backpedaled" on their support.

The problem was that the support between houses and caucus in the assembly is considerably better than in the senate house.

During his last campaign last fall, Gov. Knowles repeatedly asked officials of the state welfare department about their long range plans for minimum security prison services. The officials usually responded that they had no plans for change, being aware that the state is entitled to provide the least means of money to maintain and replace the big state penitentiary at Waupun and the state reformatory at Green Bay.

Babies Outgrow Thumb-Sucking Habit

MOLNER, M.D. should be done. This can result from prolonged and excessive pressure of the thumb - in - the mouth. Or finger - It isn't common, but it can happen.

Here are my suggestions:

Cuddle Her

1. Take extra pains to cuddle her when she finishes her bottle. Maybe this will detract her from the finger.
2. The next time you see the doctor for a checkup, discuss this habit with him. Let him gauge whether she is really deforming her gums or whether you are being too nervous about it.
3. Try tying a mitten on the hand. Even if she manages to shove the mitten in her mouth, the pressure will be distributed. And she may start to lose the habit.
4. She's just getting to the age at which she can enjoy simple "games," like rolling a ball, or grabbing at your hand, or shaking at a rattle. Or grabbing at a top on a string. Several times a day see if she won't get so interested in such little "games" that she'll grab with both hands, and forget he is dying.

He also has terrible headaches just as suddenly. Doctors say it is nerves. Advice, please, so I can help him more. - MRS. Q. R.

There's not much you can do if he won't help himself. He sounds like a very tense individual. Sedatives and tranquilizers are an aid for this type. The biggest factor in ulcer care is to change attitudes and habits for the better. It's up to him to control himself; both his smoking and his nerves.

Are you bothered with ringing in the ears? If so, write to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper for the booklet, "Ear Noises - Their Causes and Cures," enclosed with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Two New Cars are Born

Avanti-inspired...
Bonneville-tested!
R2 SUPER LARK
R2 SUPER HAWK

We designed two new cars—and built a lot of our record-setting Avanti into them: supercharged R2 engines... heavy-duty springs and shock absorbers, plus anti-sway bars, front and rear disc brakes, racing-type disc brakes, the safest known and ours alone.

We named them R2 Super Lark and R2 Super Hawk and had Andy Granatelli take them out to the infamous Bonneville Salt Flats for final performance and endurance tests.

We could scarcely believe the results, but the official U.S. Auto Club timers confirmed them: R2 Super Lark—132 mph! R2 Super Hawk—140 mph! Two-way averages—under the most punishing weather and surface conditions. That kind of performance, combined with their gentle 'round-town manners, told us these cars were ready. R2 Super Lark and R2 Super Hawk are now available on special order at your Studebaker dealer's.

Flash: front seat safety belts now come factory-installed on every car—another advance from Studebaker.

Acts to Ease Crisis Dominican Republic

Orders Guard Recall; Duvalier Said to Offer Castro Bases

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican Republic charged today that President Francois Duvalier of Haiti had offered military bases to Cuba's Fidel Castro.

The charge was made by Foreign Minister Andres Freites to a peace-keeping mission of the Organization of American States — OAS — which arrived here this morning.

Members of the mission flew to Port au Prince, the Haitian capital, after an airport conference with Freites.

War threats had receded as the Dominican Republic claimed a bloodless victory over Haitian dictator Duvalier.

The Dominican government radio proclaimed a "triumph for our national dignity" in the Haitian government's removal of guards from the grounds of the Dominican Embassy in Port au Prince. Alleged opponents of Duvalier had taken refuge there.

President Juan Bosch's government also took satisfaction from assurances from Haiti that it would respect the security of diplomatic missions there.

The Dominican government had charged that Haitian troops had invaded and surrounded its embassy in Port au Prince. Threatening to use force unless Duvalier gave in by 8 o'clock Monday night, it sent troop reinforcements to stations near the Haitian border and moved warships toward the French-speaking Negro republic with which it shares the island of Hispaniola.

Radio Santo Domingo said President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela had offered the Dominican government "all you need in your fight to free the people of Haiti from the dictator."

New Hampshire Governor Signs Bill to Legalize Sweepstakes

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Democratic Gov. John W. King, announced to the Republican-controlled New Hampshire Legislature today that he had signed a sweepstakes bill which had kept the state in turmoil for months.

Gov. King called on the legislature to help him "make a first state operated sweepstakes in this country, one that will be conducted honestly, efficiently and in compliance with the laws of the United States government."

King told the lawmakers his legislative counsel, Joseph Millimet, had discussed the sweepstakes with U.S. Department of Justice lawyers and was convinced that the New Hampshire sweepstakes would not violate federal law.

He said tickets for the sweepstakes, the first to be legalized in any state in nearly 70 years, could be sold to people whether or not they live in New Hampshire.

"It is perfectly lawful for our neighbors to come here on vacation, buy sweepstakes tickets and collect their prizes if they win," the governor said.

He added that the federal law is concerned only with interstate traffic and not with sweepstakes conducted within a single state.

The governor spoke before a joint session of the House of Representatives and Senate.

The galleries were jammed with visitors. News and television cameramen recorded the historic occasion from the aisles.

Not since 1894, when the privately operated Louisiana lottery went out of business, has a sweepstakes or lottery been sanctioned by any state.

Sweepstakes bills are a recurring issue in New Hampshire. The last time a sweeps bill was passed by both the House and Senate was in 1955, but Gov. Lane Dwinell vetoed it, reportedly at the urging of the Eisenhower administration.

In advance of the governor's address, there was speculation in some quarters that King would sign the bill. As a legislator he had voted for two sweepstakes bills. Moreover, the current bill received almost unanimous support from his fellow Democrats.

Dillon Says Gains In Output May Cut Deficit by $1 Billion

Treasury Chief Emphasizes Appeal for Tax Reduction

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon said today the economic outlook is so promising that the estimated $11.9 billion deficit in President Kennedy's 1963-64 budget may be cut a billion dollars.

This provides even more reason for reducing taxes, Dillon told a meeting of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Kennedy had forecast the deficit of nearly $12 billion — largest ever projected — when he proposed a $98.8-billion spending program for the year beginning July 1, along with a three-step tax reduction plan.

Tot, 2, Who 'Died' Happy Back at Home

CHILTON — A smiling tot who "died" three weeks ago is back home today playing with his toys.

Little Michael Fluhr, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fluhr, 31A Mill St., was released Sunday from Calumet Memorial Hospital where he was revived from apparent death from drowning.

Dr. James Knauf said Sunday little Mike is ambulatory and shows an ordinary response to his toys. "Beyond that," he said, "I think we can best credit this incident as being an act of God."

The little boy, who April 9 strayed away from his playmates in the backyard of his parents' home fronting on the Manitowoc River, was pulled from the water by Roger Peck, a construction worker. Peck spotted the youth face-down in the icy, swift current after he saw Mrs. Fluhr frantically searching for the boy along the river bank.

Peck immediately administered mouth-to-mouth respiration and continued the respiratory aid while the tot was rushed to the hospital by Fire Chief Norbert Sturm.

At the hospital Dr. Knauf performed emergency surgery and revived the boy's heart through a heart massage. It was estimated the boy's heart had stopped beating for 20 minutes.

Most Saipan Buildings Torn Down in Storm

95 Per Cent of Homes Destroyed By Typhoon Olive

AGANA, Guam (AP) — A radio message from nearby Saipan Island today said Typhoon Olive, packing 110-mile an hour winds, destroyed 95 per cent of the homes and nearly half the island's public buildings.

The message said no deaths were reported. One person was injured as the devastating Pacific storm — the second to slam into the Mariana Islands in six months — flattened Saipan.

Property damages were estimated at $2 million. All electrical power and telephone lines were bowled over and water service was knocked out, the message said.

Saipan and Tinian Islands were struck by Olive after the storm dealt less damaging blows to Guam and Rota Island, also in the Trust Territory chain.

U.S. Asked for Help

Jose Benitez, deputy high commissioner for the Pacific Trust Territory, said he had asked President Kennedy to declare Saipan, Tinian and Rota disaster areas. This would prepare the way for federal assistance to repair storm damages.

The radio message said about 45 per cent of Saipan's 2,000 public buildings were destroyed or damaged.

Most of the island's 12,000 natives were left homeless, Benitez said. The Trust Territory administration building and two Catholic churches were being used to house the homeless, he said.

Boeing Facing Strike Threat by Machinist Union

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The Boeing Co. faced a strike ultimatum today. The AFL-CIO Machinists' Union still held out hopes of averting a walkout, providing the huge aerospace firm would revise its contract offer.

The union Monday night, disclosed plans for a rolling strike to begin at Cape Canaveral, Fla. Thursday, reaching this area — site of Boeing's headquarters and center of its largest employment — next Tuesday.

Boeing, maker of the Minuteman missile and involved in other defense projects, declined comment.

Central, Southern Parts Of Nation Hit; Property Damage Reported Heavy

TUNICA, Miss. (AP) — Tornadoes apparently touched down first at the Moon Lake area in Mississippi and then spun east for five miles to the community of Rich. The four persons were killed and a dozen injured when a row of six tenant houses was flattened on a plantation.

One house near Rich was carried one-fourth mile by the twister but its 10 occupants survived. Heavy property damage was reported from winds and hail the size of hen's eggs which pounded the area.

Baby Torn From Father

Five persons were reported injured in the Maury City twister. The highway patrol said seven homes were destroyed.

3 Other States Hit

An elderly woman was killed in Randles, Mo. Other tornadoes struck Indiana and Kentucky. High winds were reported in Louisiana.

Those killed at Moon Lake near Tunica were listed as Ausley Buchanan; Melinda Foster, 5; Mrs. Tiny Evans, 70, the girl's grandmother; and E. L. Culp. Killed at Shanon were A. C. Pounds, about 35, and Beatrice Hodges.

The Maury City, Tenn., victims were listed as Mrs. Sissie Starks, 66, of Friendship, Tenn., and her daughter, Mrs. Frank Branch, 39, of Jackson, Tenn. They were visiting in the home of Mrs. Starks' son, G. P. Starks. The frame house was destroyed.

Heavy Property Loss

The man killed in Alabama was not identified. The Marion County, Ala., sheriff's office said at least 17 other persons were injured in the Hamilton twister, most of them teen-agers, gathered in a cafe.

Heavy property damage was reported in most of the stricken states. The most destructive twister.

Eichmann Aides Face Trial in W. Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Two former aides of Adolf Eichmann will go on trial soon for sharing responsibility for the killing of at least 300,000 Hungarian Jews in World War II.

Herman Krume, 58, and Otto Hunsche, 51, also are accused of extorting millions from their victims on false promises to save them from extermination. Krume was Eichmann's representative in Hungary in 1944 and Hunsche was one of Eichmann's legal advisers.

Thousands See Race of Steamboats on the Ohio

The contestants are the Belle of Louisville and the Delta Queen. The Belle is carrying the Lopes of the homefolk — of all Kentuckians, in fact — and the sleek Queen, a passenger craft, will be cheered on by the folks at her home base, Cincinnati, Ohio.

The boats, their sternwheels flailing, will race upriver from the downtown levee to Six-Mile Island, turn around and head back. The first one to pass under the downstream side of Clark Memorial Bridge, between Louisville and Jeffersonville, Ind., will be the winner. The total distance is about 14 miles.

The Belle will be making a real comeback. She is 49 years old and not as powerful as the Queen. She was on the skids when Jefferson County (Louisville) Judge Marlow Cook bought her for use as a recreational facility last May.

Now she is painted white with red trim, has completely repaired boilers and shiny ceiling lamps on her ballroom deck. At her helm will be another river veteran of half a century, Capt. Paul Underwood.

Reds Chalk Up Sharp Gains at Polls in Italy

Liberal Right Also Gains; Setback for Christian Democrats

ROME (AP) — The Communist left and the Liberal right made unprecedented gains in Italy's parliamentary election, nearly complete returns showed today.

Premier Amintore Fanfani's Christian Democratic party received its worst beating.

The outcome of weekend voting for a new chamber of deputies and senate showed a political upheaval that raised a big question mark over Fanfani and his experiment in left-leaning government for Italy, a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

First in the senate, then in the chamber, the Communists pushed their total popular vote above the 25 per cent mark.

Reds Jubilant

In both houses the Christian Democrats — who led Italy out of postwar ruin to economic boom — slumped below the 40 per cent level.

The Italian Communist party — the biggest such party outside the Red sphere and second biggest in Italy — improved by almost 4 percentage points over its showing in the last general election, in 1958.

Communists were jubilant at the outcome. The party boss, Moscow-trained Palmiro Togliatti, said it was a real victory, "better than our forecasts and hopes."

Fanfani withheld comment. His party's campaign workers watched the returns with gloom.

The results were astounding in an election where little change had been anticipated.

Liberals Double Vote

There was a surprising flight of voters from the Christian Democratic party in both directions — to left and right.

In both houses, for the first time, the Communists and Marxist Socialist parties together polled more votes than the Christian Democrats.

In both houses the Liberal Party, a rightist group advocating free enterprise and offering a haven to dissident Christian Democrat rightists, doubled its vote over the last parliamentary elections in 1958.

Over all, the parties backing Fanfani's "opening to the left" maintained a majority in the new parliament, though their edge over the opposition was reduced.

Police Capture Youth Who Flees After Sentencing

WAUPACA — A 17-year-old New London boy made a break for freedom Monday morning after he was sentenced to an indeterminate term at the Wisconsin Boys School at Wales by Judge Wendell McHenry in juvenile court.

The boy made his break as he was leaving the courtroom. He ran down the corridor of the courthouse and started heading west on Fulton Street, where he evaded pursuing police.

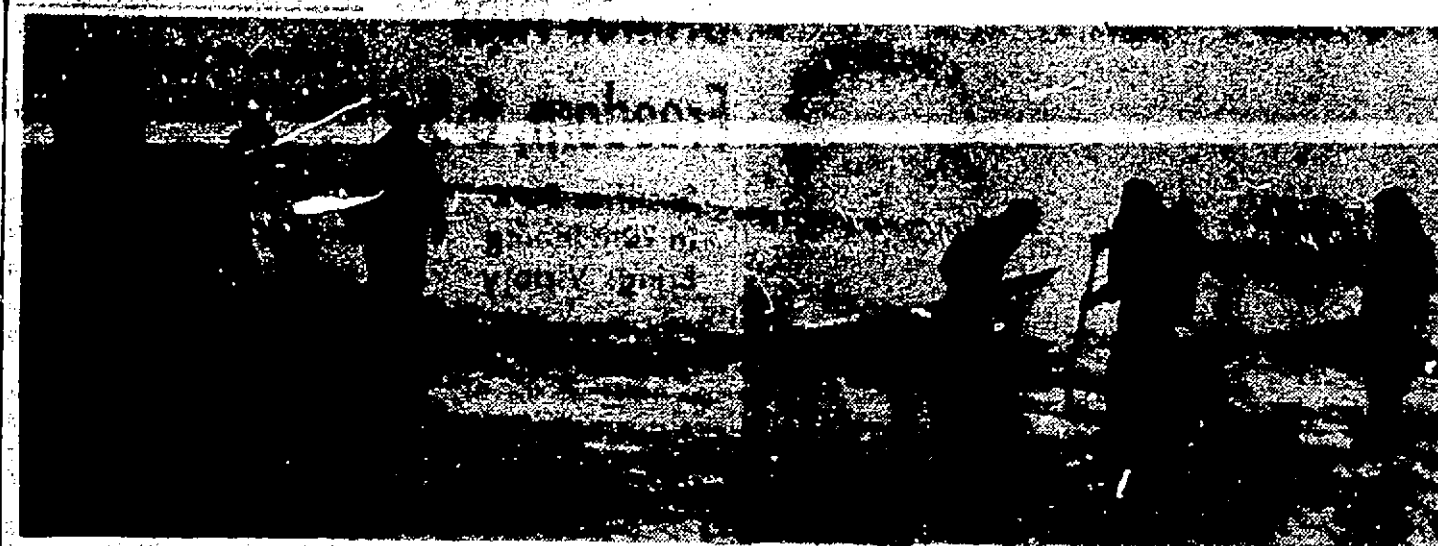

He was caught about 30 minutes later leaving Waupaca on State 54 toward New London by Weyauwega Chief of Police Lawrence Schmies and Waupaca patrolman, Harley Dunbar, who were in the search.

He was brought back to the sheriff's office and driven to Wales by county police.

The boy was sentenced for taking a car belonging to Kenneth Fields and for breaking into the Schwan Oil service station April 22 at New London. An 18-year-old boy also is facing similar charges.

Campaign to Start in Mid-June for $200,000 Expansion

WAUPACA — Paul Niles, Waupaca manager of the Wisconsin Public Service Corp., has accepted the appointment as general chairman of the Riverside Memorial Community hospital, $200,000 expansion fund drive.

The appointment was announced by the hospital's board of trustees. Solicitations will start in mid-June.

Niles is president of Waupaca Industrial Development Corp. and a long-time member of the Waupaca Lions club. He has been with Wisconsin Public Service Corp. for 36 years. He also has been active in Waupaca Community Chest and Red Cross chapter fund drives.

Ready Plans

He is a former president and active member of the Waupaca Amateur Radio club.

Niles met Monday night with the trustees to consolidate plans for the drive, including the planning of the program and the time schedule.

Headquarters for the drive is in the former Taylor-Stange store, Union Street, across the street from the courthouse. The clerks are Mrs. Sven Hybinette, Mrs. Stanley Engle and Mrs. William Thesen.

Oshkosh Gets $49,182 for Urban Plan

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) Monday announced Oshkosh will receive a $49,182 advance from the federal government for urban renewal planning and a survey.

Proxmire said the 41-acre survey area, representing Oshkosh's first urban renewal project, is about half a mile west of the central business district on the Fox River. The entire area is to be cleared with the exception of a dormitory and power substation. Expansion of Wisconsin State College-Oshkosh is planned to include new classrooms and dormitories.

Proxmire said the Urban Renewal Administration has reserved $72,415 in anticipation that Oshkosh later will apply for a loan and grant contract.

Smelt Lovers Help Send Chilton Boy Scouts to Summer Camp

BY DON KAMPFER

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

CHILTON — Because some 800 persons devoured a half-ton of smelt Friday night, the Chilton Boy Scouts all will be able to attend summer camp this year.

The Scouts' novel fund raising event was a tremendous success this year when its setting, the spacious St. Mary Church hall, was jammed with people waiting to sample the crisp little Lake Michigan fish.

Proceeds will send the Scouts to Camp Rokilio this year. But, they earned the trip. Scout leaders Dan Alberdyll and Clarence Hilbert made certain the coveted experience didn't come so easy it wouldn't be appreciated.

Braved Icy Water

During the week carloads of Scouts were taken to Lake Michigan where they braved the icy water — generally in leaky waders and hip boots — to seine the smelt they served. Then came a cleaning "bee." It takes a lot of little smelt to make 1,000 pounds, the amount they considered necessary on the basis of the 700 advance ticket sales.

On the night of the fry, the entire troop turned out in uniform.

New School District Annual Meetings, Elections in July

Hortonville, Seymour, Freedom Must Set Up Integrated Units

The first annual meetings and school board elections for the new common school districts in Hortonville, Seymour and Freedom have been set for the first week in July.

The three districts are the last remaining union high school districts in Outagamie County. The orders establishing the integrated districts become effective on July 1.

The new districts were formed on petition to the county school committee. Appeals on all three integration orders from individuals in the Town of Center were denied in circuit court. The appeals delayed the effective date of establishment of the common school districts in Hortonville and Freedom, which originally was set for last August.

The new districts will qualify for integrated state aids (on a kindergarten through 12th grade basis). Even if the present aid levels are maintained, this would result in substantial gains in Hortonville and Seymour and a smaller gain in Freedom, according to Outagamie County Superintendent of Schools Henry Van Stratton.

Hortonville District

The Hortonville Community School District No. 1 will include the Village of Hortonville and all or part of the towns of Center, Dale, Ellington, Grand Chute, Greenville, Hortonville and Liberty. It was established by order of the county school committee on July 25, 1962.

The first annual meeting for the election of school district officers and the transaction of other business will be held on July 1 at the Hortonville High School. The polls will be open for the election of school board members from 2 to 8 p.m., and the business session of the first annual meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

Membership of the Hortonville school board will be apportioned in the following manner: Zone 1, village of Hortonville and Town of Liberty, two members; Zone 2, Town of Ellington, one member; Zone 3, towns of Greenville and Grand Chute, two members; Zone 4, Town of Center, one member; and Zone 5, towns of Dale and Hortonville, one member.

Electors in the entire new district will vote for candidates in all zones. The two candidates receiving the most votes in each of Zones 1 and 3 and the candidate receiving the most votes in each of Zones 2, 4 and 5 will constitute the school board.

Clothes Catch Fire in Drier

WAUPACA — A batch of clothing in a clothes drier caught fire about 5:30 p.m. at the Jess Whitney home, 633 Elm St.

Waupaca firemen took the clothes out of the drier and sprayed them with water on the back lawn. The interior of the house was filled with smoke.

Whitney reported his wife had temporarily left the home to do some shopping. When she returned, she discovered the fire.

Increase Expected In Outagamie Job Openings in May

WSES Market Report Indicates Upswing of 2 Per Cent in Area

An increase in over-all employment of nearly 2 per cent is expected in Outagamie County by mid-May, according to information in the WSES labor market survey. About 220 more persons are expected to be employed by area firms.

An upturn is anticipated in the paper group, due to increased production capacity; in the textile group, to meet seasonal demands; in construction, because of an upswing in commercial and institutional building; and in the retail trade because of expected increases in most department store sales forces.

The 60 reporting establishments listed a total employment of 12,881 through March.

Activate Demand

The report indicated that the opening of spring activities and the return of outdoor workers to their usual employment should activate the worker demand.

There is a demand for skilled machine operators and experienced office workers that exceeds the supply, but commitments for reemployment of 1963 high school graduates should lessen the demand slightly.

During March a new hire rate of 17 workers per 1000 employed was reflected at reporting establishments, compared with a rate of 13 per 1000 during January.

The quit rate of 10 per 1000 compared with nine per 1000 in January and the layoff rate dropped from 24 per 1000 to six per 1000.

The present supply of workers is adequate and will be increased substantially as the graduates enter the labor market, the report indicated.

Currently, the demand for experienced, full time agricultural workers is greater than the supply of those who are qualified and willing to accept the pay and working conditions.

CLINTONVILLE — Bethany Evangelical Free Church members broke ground for a new church building on N. Main Street Sunday noon. The church will be built at an estimated cost of $40,000.

The ceremony followed the Sunday morning worship service and was conducted by the Rev. Dale R. Leander, pastor, with the members of the building committee participating. Henry Hoeksema is the committee chairman. Committee members are Roger Davis, Martin Peterson, Warren Steege and Frank Buchholz. The architect for the new edifice is Walter Carlson, Glenview, Ill., and the contractor is Orlin Felts, Shawano.

The present church is at 62 Seventh St. and was built 60 years ago. The Bethany Evangelical Free church was organized in Clintonville in 1833 with a charter membership of 18. The first church building was on Power Street.

Three Fined for Fishing Violations

WAUPACA — Three people were fined Monday for violation of the state conservation laws before Municipal Justice George Whalen. Hollis Webster, 36, Wisconsin Rapids, and Ambrose Potoka, 49, route 1, Bancroft, were each fined $10 for not having their boats registered.

Larry E. Semrow, 21, Fort Sam Houston, Texas, was fined $10 for fishing without a license.

Margaret Kostka won the Betty Crocker award at Wittenberg High School. Margaret will enter competition with representatives of Wisconsin High School senior girls for a scholarship.

Waupaca Names Red Cross Heads

County Chapter Sets Goal for 1963 Charity Drive at $6,950

WAUPACA — Local chairmen for the 1963 fund drive of the Waupaca Red Cross chapter were announced today by Frank Halfner, chapter chairman. The goal is $6,950.

The drive, postponed to May because of conflicts with other drives and campaigns, is to raise $4,200 outside of Manawa and Waupaca. The Waupaca Community Chest contributes $2,200 and the Manawa united fund campaign gives $50.

Halfner, assisted by Arthur D. Larson, appointed the following chairmen: Mrs. Hilda Abraham, Fremont; Mrs. Rosemary Mallau, Weyauwega; Martha Voie, Scandinavia; G. H. Stordock, King; Len Hoydord, Iola; and C. H. Beitzel, Ogdensburg. The Chain O'Lakes mail drive is conducted by Morris Smith, executive secretary. The town chairmen are Walter Ciura, Dayton; Mrs. Ruth Lightfuss, south half of Union; Harold Jensen, Farmington; J. F. Sampsell, Harrison; William Kramer, Sr., Fremont; Earl Christensen, Helvetia; Frank Krueger, Iola; Mrs. Fred Jensen, Lind; Ben Ferg, Little Wolf; David Sexton, Royalton; Oscar Severson, St. Lawrence; Mrs. Roy Nottleson, Scandinavia; George Redman, Waupaca; and Harvey Jonely, Weyauwega.

Memorial Donation

Last week the chapter received a memorial contribution from Mrs. R. C. Hale on behalf of her late husband who was fund chairman in 1961. The advance mail campaign among summer residents at the Chain O'Lakes garnered $290.

Last year, 477 volunteers worked for the Waupaca Red Cross chapter. They were able to volunteer their services because enough people contributed money to keep the chapter's programs active.

In the blood program, they participated in a service which collected over 500 pints of blood and processed and distributed 519 pints of blood to chapter residents in various hospitals in the United States. As much as $1,400 is spent by the chapter annually in maintaining the free blood program, which saved recipients $12,975 last year.

Local Work

Locally, the chapter handles more than 200 cases annually involving various types of emergency assistance to servicemen, veterans and their families. As much as $800 may be spent in a year to provide assistance in sending emergency messages when a crisis occurs for a serviceman or his family in the Waupaca area.

The chapter budgets $200 yearly to provide emergency food and other needs to local families who suffer home burnouts or other misfortune. Emergency clothing needs also are filled when local disaster occurs. In addition, the national Red Cross has spent about $12,000 in Waupaca county during tornadoes occurring since 1950.

The first aid training program passed 136 people through the standard course and 11 in the advanced course. A chapter first aid booth is maintained in Manawa during the rodeo. Twenty first aid instructors are available to teach classes.

Another chapter service is the training of water safety instructors. Upwards of $250 is spent in a year to send these young people to National Red Cross aquatic schools. When they return they provide swimming instructions at local beaches.

GOP Caucus Will Hear Speech, Music Endorsement Proposals Contest Set

State Chairman Candidates Will Attend; Appleton Man Talking at Green Bay Session

GREEN BAY — Eighth district Republicans will receive a "briefing" of the stands for and against convention endorsement of candidates at their spring caucus Thursday night at the Northland hotel.

The state party convention in Oshkosh May 23 will vote on proposals that the practice of endorsing candidates be ended or changed. The state GOP convention endorses candidates for statewide offices, which brings organization support if there is a September primary for the office.

Endorsement has come under fire from the 1962 election results because of the loss of Philip Kuehn in the gubernatorial election, after he won endorsement in a close race with former Lt. Gov. Warren Knowles, and because of the defeat of former Sen. Alexander Wiley.

Youth Changes Plea in Beer Party Charge

Tom Ness, 19, route 1, Oneida, changed his plea to guilty Monday in Outagamie County Court, Branch 2, and was fined $50 and costs on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Ness had pleaded innocent to the charge Friday and was to be tried June 13. He was being held in the Outagamie County jail on $200 bond.

Ness took part in a teen-age beer party April 17 in the Town of Oneida in which youths under 18 were present.

Miss Lillian Cooper, 25, route 1, Oneida, was released from the Outagamie County jail Monday where she had been confined since Friday after she pleaded guilty of contributing to the delinquency of minors. County Judge Gustave Keller sentenced her to four days in jail Monday and gave her credit for the time she had served since Friday.

Miss Cooper was charged with buying a bottle of wine for a minor girl on April 5.

200 Will Compete At Kaukauna Teachers' College

KAUKAUNA — About 200 student teachers from nine county teachers colleges will assemble at Outagamie County College Friday for the annual forensic and music competition.

Besides the host school, others entered will be from Marinette, Door-Kewaunee, Columbus, Racine-Kenosha, Manitowoc, Mayville, Wautoma and Sheboygan Falls. Coffee will be served at the school shortly after visitors arrive and luncheon will be served in the school dining room.

Forensic students will compete in humorous and serious declamation, story telling, interpretive poetry reading, extemporaneous reading and speaking and original and non-original oratory.

Solo and ensemble vocal selections will predominate in the musical competition although a few instrumental solos are included. The host school will have 18 students participating in the forensic division and 17 in the vocal competition.

In charge of arrangements are Mrs. Della Milbach, Dan Glaesche, Miss Joan Brautigan, Paul Delair, Mrs. Eileen Nagan and Mrs. Mary Dillafate, all student teachers.

Mirro Company Has All-Time High in Sales

An all-time high in net sales for a first quarter period was realized in 1963 by the Mirro Aluminum Co., Manitowoc, according to an announcement by A. L. Vits, president.

Net sales for the first quarter rose over 8 per cent while net earnings showed a healthy 16 per cent increase over the first quarter of 1962.

Net sales for the first quarter of 1963 were $10,951,000 as compared to $10,101,000 for the first quarter of 1962. Net income was $594,000, an increase of $96,000 over the previous 1962 period.

Net income per share was 57 cents as compared to 48 cents for the first quarter of 1962.

New products contributed substantially to the improved first three months results in 1963, the chief executive said, and are expected to have a continuing beneficial effect for the remainder of the year.

KVS to Offer Motors Class

KAUKAUNA — A short, intensive five-week course in trouble shooting and minor repair or replacement techniques of power plant and auxiliary motor units will get underway at 7 p.m. Wednesday at the School of Vocational and Adult Education.

Classes will be two hours long and instructor will be William Mittlestaedt. The course is designed for service station or garage mechanics. Reservations are being accepted by calling the school.

The initial class will utilize electronic equipment to locate trouble in motor, batteries, plugs, distributors and timing. The second class will deal with replacing parts such as generators, starters and regulators. The third class will deal with alternators, carburetors and fuel pumps.

The fourth class will deal with brakes, cooling systems, gauges and transmissions, and the final class will deal with sales technique including customer handling, motivation, good will, remembering names and other hints.

Tipsy Driver Fined $150

Rural Neenah Man Arrested After Auto Hits Island

MENASHA — Fred L. Wandahsego, 32, route 1, Neenah, Saturday was fined $150 and $5 in court costs or 30 days in Winnebago County Jail and had his drivers license suspended for one year on a charge of "drunken driving." He appeared in Menasha Municipal Justice Court.

Wandahsego pleaded guilty to the charge.

He was arrested by Menasha police at 12:56 a.m. Saturday after the car he was driving hit a traffic island in Menasha.

Wandahsego registered .20 in drunkometer tests. A reading of .15 is considered evidence of intoxication.

Transfer Line Given Expansion Go-Ahead

MADISON — Clayton A. Peters, doing business as De Pere-Green Bay Transfer Line, has been authorized to expand his trucking service to transport plywood, lumber and home building materials between Green Bay and Wisconsin points within a 100-mile radius of the city for the Weyerhaeuser Co., Wood Products division, Green Bay.

The Green Bay distribution center started operations in January of this year and needs additional trucking service, the public service commission was told.

Appleton Man Jailed On Conduct Charges

OSHKOSH — Lawrence Jost, 45, route 2, Appleton, was sentenced to 30 days in the Winnebago County Jail this morning after he pleaded guilty of disorderly conduct.

Jost was arrested shortly after noon Friday by Menasha police after a fight with Delores Miller, 36, 205 Racine St., Menasha, in a car on London Street. She received a 30 day jail sentence Friday afternoon.

Youths Questioned After Garage Entry

Appleton police Monday questioned four youths who admitted they had entered the James Vanderlinden garage at 112 E. Hoover St., tipped over toys, broke soda bottles and pulled some potted plants out of their containers.

The youths also admitted they took an air pellet gun from the garage and broke it, and also damaged a speedometer on a bicycle in the garage.

State Senator Lists Re-Districting Plan

Green County Legislator Suggests Changing Outagamie, Calumet Areas

MADISON — Because he insists upon keeping Green County in the first congressional district of southern Wisconsin, Sen. Gordon Roseleip of Darlington has offered the state senate an unusual plan for redistribution of territory for northeastern Wisconsin congressional districts in his reapportionment substitute bill.

The Republican senator has proposed southern Wisconsin adjustments in the congressional redistricting bill that was passed by the assembly three weeks ago, and as a result has been required to ask for reshuffling of other Wisconsin territory also.

In the Eighth district, for example, he would add Calumet County and Sheboygan County, now within the Sixth district, and remove Outagamie, Forest and Florence counties and put them in the Seventh district.

Second District

The counties of Adams, Green, Lake, Portage and Waushara, now in the Seventh district, would be shifted to the Second district.

The Roseleip proposal is thought to be representative of resistance or doubt among some Republican majority senators about the Republican - drafted assembly redistricting proposal, and has led to considerable speculation about the ultimate fate of congressional reapportionment in the upper house.

The substitute measure would reorganize all districts more drastically than did the assembly original, and make it more difficult to pass because additional incumbent members of the congress are likely to communicate their objections to their local members of the legislature, according to state capitol accounts.

Meetings, Elections Set by New Districts

Straten, secretary of the county school committee, at the courthouse annex, Appleton, 20 days before the date of the annual meeting. Filing deadline will be at 5 p.m. on June 12.

The Seymour Community School Joint District No. 4, established by order of the joint Outagamie and Shawano county school committees on Sept. 6, 1962, will include the City of Seymour, Village of Black Creek, and all or part of the towns of Seymour, Black Creek, Center, Cicero, Maine, Oneida, Osborn, Lessor and Maple Grove.

The first annual meeting for election of school district officers and transaction of other business will be on July 2 at the Seymour High School. The polls will be open for the election of school board members from 2 to 8.30 p.m., and the business session of the first annual meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

Membership of the school board of the Seymour district will be apportioned in the following manner: Zone 1, City of Seymour, two members, and one member each in Zone 2, village of Black Creek; Zone 3, towns of Cicero, Maine and Lessor; Zone 4, towns of Seymour and Maple Grove; Zone 5, towns of Oneida and Osborn, and Zone 6, towns of Black Creek and Center.

Seymour Board

Elected in the entire new district will vote for candidates in all zones. The two candidates receiving the most votes in Zone 1 and the candidate receiving the most votes in each of the other five zones will constitute the Seymour school board.

All candidates for the school board of the new Seymour district must file their intent of candidacy with Van Straten at the courthouse annex, Appleton, 20 days before the date of the annual meeting. Filing deadline will be 5 p.m. June 13.

The Freedom Community School Joint District No. 3, established by order of the county school committee on July 31, 1962, will include all or part of the towns of Freedom, Center, Kaukauna, Oneida and Osborn.

The first annual meeting will be on July 3 at Freedom High School. The polls will be open for the election of school board members from 2 to 8 p.m., and the business sessions of the first annual meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

Membership of the Freedom school board will be apportioned in the following manner: Zone 1, all area in the county will be in a kindergarten or first grade through 12th grade district. All area in the county will be in common school districts except Appleton and Kaukauna, which have city systems, part of the county in the New London unified district, and part in the Clintonville city system.

At the first annual meeting electors will discuss problems confronting the new districts and possibly authorize the new board to take some action. Van Straten said. The new boards will present budgets on July 22.

With the dissolution of the three union high school districts on July 1, all area in the county will be in a kindergarten or first grade through 12th grade district. All area in the county will be in common school districts except Appleton and Kaukauna, which have city systems, part of the county in the New London unified district, and part in the Clintonville city system.

The only remaining elementary district in the county will be the Little Chute district, which by the two receiving the most votes in Zone 2, and the one with the most votes in each of Zones 3 and 4, will constitute the school board.

School board candidates in the Freedom district must file their intent of candidacy with Van Straten at the courthouse annex, first annual meeting. Filing deadline will be 5 p.m. June 14.

Of the seven school board members to be elected in each of the new districts, the three receiving the highest number of votes will be elected to three-year terms, the two receiving the next highest number of votes will be elected to two-year terms, and the two receiving the next highest number of votes will be elected to one-year terms.

The first year of the terms will run only until the regular annual meeting for all school districts on July 22. The two board members elected to one-year terms at the first meeting must be re-elected or someone must be elected in their place at the July 22 meeting.

Discuss Problems

At the first annual meeting electors will discuss problems confronting the new districts and possibly authorize the new board to take some action. Van Straten said. The new boards will present budgets on July 22.

With the dissolution of the three union high school districts on July 1, all area in the county will be in a kindergarten or first grade through 12th grade district. All area in the county will be in common school districts except Appleton and Kaukauna, which have city systems, part of the county in the New London unified district, and part in the Clintonville city system.

The only remaining elementary district in the county will be the Little Chute district, which by special legislation was given until July 1, 1964, to decide whether to build its own high school or join another high school district. Under the school reorganization law, all other areas had to be in a district operating a high school by July 1, 1962.

Pahl was arrested by county police Sunday night when he was a passenger in a car stopped by police for a suspected traffic violation. The driver of the car was arrested and held for drunken driving, but pleaded innocent Monday.

Nikita's Hint He May Retire Has Many Meanings

Could be Political Maneuver to Rally
Stronger Backing

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Nikita Khrushchev is a smart politician. If he had been born and raised in Britain or France or the United States, he might well have won high office by election. He knows how to evade some issues and capitalize on others. He knows the art of deception in politics, and is one of the most skillful practitioners of "managed news" in the world today.

So it isn't surprising to read that the Soviet demagogue now is applying to himself an old rule of politics: "Never wear out your welcome — don't wait till you are thrown out. Beat them to the punch."

Mr. Khrushchev has made the first move. He points out, in a speech to his party, that he now is 60 years old, and can't "hold for all time" the position he now has "in the party and the state." He doesn't indicate whether he might give up his post as Soviet premier or as first secretary of the Communist Party.

Mobilize 'The People'

Merely to mention, as Khrushchev did in his speech, that he might relinquish one or both posts will stir up all the political animals in the higher ranks of the government and the party in the Soviet Union. It is always risky to speak of a prospective ending of one's career in politics, though at times it produces a rebounding effect. The "people"—meaning one's strong supporters—sometimes feel the time is ripe to mobilize sentiment to beg the leader to stay on.

It could be that Mr. Khrushchev is just testing his own strength. If he is "drafted" to stay on in both jobs, he can emerge stronger than ever, internally speaking. But if some other influential politician reaches out for either of the two posts, it is quite conceivable that Mr. Khrushchev will prefer to give up the premiership and continue with the job of party secretary. So far as day-by-day work is concerned, this is less burdensome, and in that post he could exercise almost as much control as he could as head of the government.

Test of Strength

Ambitions will be stirred in the Kremlin by the news of prospective change. The men on their way up will look enviously at the high posts that would become vacant. For certainly promotion will come from within the present government circle.

In a sense, however, the change in the premiership will be a test of strength. If Nikita Khrushchev is really not as popular inside the Soviet Union as the outside world has been led to believe, the decision to shift posts could really be a shrewd move on his part to pass the buck to others who have been criticizing him in the secret councils of the party.

In a country of 210,000,000 persons, it is not easy to assure uniform enthusiasm for any leader for any length of time. Economic problems produce a constant discontent. Unquestionably, conditions are better for the average family than they were a decade or more ago, but human beings are not satisfied with half measures.

Mr. Khrushchev has been able to prevent the discontent from boiling over into revolution by keeping a war scare going. He has talked of alleged threats of aggression by the west and has dramatized the possibility of nuclear war. All this has furnished an excuse for huge spending on armament instead of for making substantial improvements in the standard of living. But, sooner or later, even war scares die down and the news percolates through from the outside that danger of war is receding. This puts the Soviet leadership on the spot.

Serious Problems

News reports from Moscow tell of the serious economic problems that have gone unsolved in the Soviet Union: agricultural and industrial. Mr. Khrushchev devoted most of his three-hour speech the other day to domestic ills. Some note is taken of Mr. Khrushchev's difficulties in the diplomatic field, but basically the Russian people want their money spent inside Russia and not on "foreign aid" programs all over the world.

The debate with Red China on ideological issues gets some attention inside Russia but, for most of the Soviet people, it is an abstract issue. They don't want a lot of money spent for Red China, either. They want homes of their own, where there are no longer six people sleeping in a single bedroom. They want better food and more of the comforts of life. They are thinking of internal rather than external problems—and the former are the hardest to solve.

It is easier for Nikita Khrushchev to make speeches condemning capitalism and extolling Communism than it is for him to set up an economic system that accomplishes what the United States has attained—or even what continental Europe, with its "common market" formula, is beginning to achieve—in the domain of economic prosperity.

So the Soviet leader, who has turned many somersaults—including his denunciation of Stalin, his bosom friend of yesteryears—may be on the way out of two jobs, though probably for a while he will cling to one. Maybe if conditions get worse, he will be retired before long from the second one, too. For Joseph Stalin once made a significant remark to a skeptical American—the late Harry Hopkins—who had arched his eyebrows in disbelief when the Soviet chief said he also had to be mindful of public opinion. Property Line Ruling Sought

Prange Firm Must Get City Approval
On Parking Ramp

If the City of Appleton is to grant the H. C. Prange Co. permission to encroach over its property line to construct a new parking structure, regular legal procedure will have to be followed.

Public Works Director Robert W. Bues told the common council's street-sanitation committee Monday that it appeared that state statutes were not followed in the past in granting encroachments to other establishments.

The Prange Co. has requested permission to go over its property line about 2 feet, 9 inches for concrete footings to support the $500,000 parking structure.

Bridges Permitted

Another request from the company is for permission to construct a pedestrian bridge over Midway Street to connect the parking structure with the existing store building.

"These things can get involved and legal documents need to be drawn up should the city wish to grant these requests," Bues advised the committee. There was every indication the city will cooperate with the company.

Before the city can approve the company's requests, public hearings will have to be held, it was explained. The committee instructed the city attorney to confer with company officials.

10 Kimberly Students To Be Inducted Into National Honor Unit

KIMBERLY — Ten Kimberly High School students will be inducted into the National Honor Society at ceremonies in the school auditorium at 3 p.m. Wednesday.

Sixteen students will be named to temporary membership. Following the ceremony, a tea for parents of honor society members and faculty will be held in the school dining area with Miss Shirley Bournoville in charge.

reorted: "Oh, yes, we have our public opinion, too."

In the Soviet Union today, 210,000,000 people can upset any man or group of men at any moment they decide to exercise their concerted will. And Mr. Khrushchev recognizes a political current even before it reaches the proportions of a tidal wave.

Colleague of Jingo Rates TV Programs

Hospital Convalescent Finds Only Few Shows Really Worth Watching

JINGO—Pity the poor convalescent. With time on his hands and interests at demand companions — such as bridge — he ponders the parable of Hamlet's problem, "To TV or not to TV?"

Such is the plight of a colleague of Jingo's whose enforced experience of 5½ weeks before a hospital room electronic cyclops developed the following contemplations.

Faced with the alternative of reading one's self blind, watching television is a far safer evil. Though, for the most part, it is not nearly as entertaining.

On the whole, television is very very average and, with a few exceptions, not very stimulating.

Of the weekly-scheduled programs, only five proved to be consistently enjoyable — "Eleventh Hour," "Naked City," "David Brinkley's Journal," "McHale's Navy," and "The Defenders."

Jingo's most unfortunate, however, that "Eleventh Hour" and "Naked City" are on at the same time. This is especially unfortunate because there is so much time when there is nothing better to watch than huge chunks of wasteland.

Picks Bad Ones — While there are few programs are consistently good, there are equally few that prove consistently bad, namely "The Nurses," "Mitch Miller," "The Alfred Hitchcock Hour," and "International Showtime."

Moreover there are quite a few that come pretty close to being good. These would be "The Powell Theater," "Premier," "Sign O' Toole," "College," and "The Andy Griffith Show."

Power, Light Firm Reduces Its Rates — A $2,004,000 annual reduction in electrical and natural gas rates by Wisconsin Power & Light Co. was announced by the Wisconsin Public Service Commission.

The revised rate schedules, effective with bills issued at the end of May, are the largest cuts made by the company since the $1,744,000 and gas rates of $1,000 annually. The cuts are the by the company in the last years.

Few of the stories on NBC's "Monday Night at the Movies" and "Saturday Night at the Movies" are very good. If they were, they wouldn't be on television. ABC's Sunday night show is the best since actors such as Alec Guinness and Burt Lancaster sneak in occasionally.

Of the five best shows on each week, "McHale's Navy" has to be the favorite. Without failure, this program is always good for a lot of laughs.

Top-notchers in Field — "The Defenders" deals with any subject (no matter how unsavory) tastefully and logically. Brinkley has the one news-background show that really stimulates. "The Eleventh Hour" makes a mysterious subject — psychiatry — interesting to the layman, and "Naked City" is the one truly intelligent, adult show about crime.

Daytime TV is so bad that it makes nighttime TV look good.

Stars Spoof Private Eye For Powell

BY TV SCOUT

6:30-7:30 (Channel 4-5) The Dick Powell Show has an all-star cast, cavorting through a very funny spoof of every private eye show you have ever seen. Robert Cummings is the detective who tries to act in the great movie-television tradition. Jeanne Crain is his beautiful secretary, William Bendix the client who wants to find his wife's blackmailer, Janis Paige a "dovine" twist teacher, Arnold Stang a bartender awed by his first meeting with a real detective, Keenan Wynn and Sebastian Cabot are a pair of thugs, MacDonald Carey a long-suffering policeman, William Lundigan a lawyer, Eddie (Rochester) Anderson a shoe shine boy, and Jay C. Flippen a merchant seaman looking for Sam Spade because some men are after his Maltese Falcon.

6:30-7:30 (Channel 11) — Combat examines the reactions of three people under fire — self-styled coward, a doctor and his loving nurse — during a perilous ambulance trip.

7:30-8:30 (Channel 2) — An exciting escape story occupies The Lloyd Bridges Show. Bridges plays the leader of a group of Czechs who build a tank out of a truck for a drive across a mined field to West Germany and freedom.

7:30-8:30 (Channel 4-5) — The trouble with the story on Empire is that any suspense is drained by the viewers' certainty that Redigo (Richard Egan), trampled by a wild stallion, won't remain crippled even though a neurologist somberly confines him to a wheel chair for life. Even the outcome of his romance with Inger Stevens, a paraplegic with a case history similar to his, is predictable, since our manly hero must go his way alone. (Color)

8:30-9:30 (Channel 11) — Eliot Ness heads for New Orleans to convince a booking agent and a violin maker that he's a great jazz bass fiddler on The Untouchables.

9-10 (Channel 2) — George Gobel, Nancy Walker and Rosemary Clooney visit a fast-moving edition of The Garry Moore Show. The major skit is an episode from "The Twilight Zone," in which Rosemary and Durward Kirby play a pair of newlyweds haunted by his first wife (Nancy), then by her first husband (Garry).

10:30-12 (Channel 4-5) — Tonight's guests are Dan Blocker, France Nuyen, Della Reese and Dublin's Lord Mayor James L. O'Keefe. (Color).

Garden Will Guard Against Useless Feeling

U. S. Should Give Elderly Acre of Land, Some Seeds

BY HAL BOTTLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions—and how many do you agree with?

The best insurance against a feeling of uselessness in old age is a garden.

Sorrow's crown of sorrows among the elderly is the realization they are no longer needed. To stay young in heart and purpose you have to dwell in a world that is dependent upon you and cannot get along without you.

When you plant a garden you create such a world. It will wither without your hand.

A Social Security pension at 65 is a fine and welcome thing. But Uncle Sam would have a happier senior citizen—and improve the landscape—if at retirement time he gave every man and woman a quarter acre of earth and a pocketful of seeds.

It's hard to feel old when you're busy helping something to grow.

Betty Laugh

One of life's pleasant sights is a fat woman having a belly laugh. There is so much of her having a good time—she's a real mirthquake.

Are you tired of magazines that devote their entire issues to a single general subject—such as women, money or the atom bomb? They give me a big yawn.

I never trust a man who says he feels good on Monday mornings. He is bound to be either a liar or a hypocrite.

An optimist is a person who gives a modern child a penny and expects to get back a look of gratitude.

It takes a born critic to be a good dentist.

The worst part of being a career diplomat is having to pretend you like caviar.

When a woman doesn't care much about a man she addresses him impersonally. But if she is fond of him she gets a tireless thrill out of calling him by his first name. Thus you can always tell what a girl thinks of you by how often she employs your name.

Life is never utterly hopeless to a fellow as long as he can still enjoy eating corn on the cob.

Wisdom flows in the first martini; folly flowers in any poured thereafter.

Nine out of ten husbands never read the fine print in their life insurance policies—but four out of five of their wives do.

A single girl doesn't become an old maid until she brings home her second cat.

An old bachelor never seems lonelier than when he's trying to make friends with a baby.

If there were only one tree in the world, what kind would you want it to be? I'd like it to be an apple tree. Second choice: Oak. Third choice: Elm. Honorable mention: Maple.

DEAF Will Hold Open House at Oshkosh School

The Deaf Education Aid Fund (DEAF) will hold an open house and tea at the Oshkosh school for the Deaf at 3 p.m. Sunday. The open house was planned for May, which is "Better Hearing Month."

The open house will provide an opportunity for interested persons to see the students' work and talk to persons in the field of education for the deaf. The DEAF group is in the process of establishing a scholarship program for teachers of the deaf.

The open house program will include demonstrations of some of the teaching techniques used in the classroom to teach speech and lip reading to youngsters whose hearing is handicapped.

Invitations have been sent to Future Teachers of America clubs in the area. The program also is open to anyone interested in the oral education of the deaf.

Appleton's Mayor Gets Letter From Out-of-State Lad

What's in a letter? Ask Appleton's Mayor Clarence Mitchell and he will say it all depends.

Today the mayor got an inquisitive letter from a New York state youngster who really didn't say anything but did ask a lot of questions.

Thomas Marisca, of 2 Spruce Lane, Valley Stream, N.Y., wrote Mitchell:

"Dear Sir: 'How are you feeling? 'When is your birthday? 'I hope you enjoy your job and don't have any trouble with it.

'May I please have a picture of you? 'What are your hobbies?'"

Sincerely, Thomas Marisca

10 Die, 50 Hurt During Series Of Tornadoes

Clement, was reported in critical condition at a Jackson, Tenn., hospital. A witness said the baby was blown out of the arms of its father, Ernest Clement, as he tried to make his way to a car at their home near Alamo, Tenn.

Four persons were injured at Talladega in east Alabama. Wide-spread damage was reported.

The Weather Bureau said it had an unofficial report of 8 inches of rain in seven hours at Fort Payne, in northeast Alabama. U.S. Highway 11 was closed near Fort Payne, and some flooding was reported over northern parts of Alabama.

Hotel: Roof Torn Off
Shannon, Miss., reported 14 injured and much damage. Another small tornado hit the north edge of Oxford, site of the University of Mississippi, causing heavy property damage but no injuries.

A small tornado tore the roof off the Kaintuck Hotel at Russellville, Ky., and damaged several business houses and residences. Tornadoes swept into the Wabash River Valley along Indiana's western border with heavy rain and half No injuries were reported.

High winds caused property damage in central and northern Louisiana but no one was reported hurt. A windstorm toppled 21 oil derricks in the Tullos-Olla area in central Louisiana.

Tornado alerts were issued for Georgia by the Atlanta Weather Bureau but were rescinded early

Special Jury to Hear Alabamian's Murder Charges

GADSDEN, Ala. (AP)—A special grand jury will consider the murder charges against a rural storekeeper in the rifle slaying of a Baltimore integrationist.

"When the investigation has been properly developed, an announcement of the call of the grand jury will be Simpson made," Circuit Judge Virgil Pittman said Monday.

The next regular session of the grand jury is not until September.

Floyd Simpson, 40, has been charged with first-degree murder in the slaying of William L. Moore, 35.

Moore's body was found sprawled on a road near this northeast Alabama community last Tuesday night. He was shot to death on the second day of a planned hike from Chattanooga, Tenn., to Jackson, Miss., where he wanted to air his views on segregation with Gov. Ross Barnett.

College Regents Set Stevens Point Meeting

MADISON (AP)—The board of State College Regents will meet Friday in Stevens Point and attend inauguration ceremonies Saturday for James H. Albertson, who became president of the state college there last July.

This morning, stiff winds raked Atlanta and other parts of Georgia and caused temporary flooding in some low-lying streets in Atlanta.

High Court Rules Against Religious Units

Sects Not Immune
From Liability for Acts of Negligence

MADISON (AP)—The Wisconsin Supreme Court abolished today the doctrine that religious organizations are immune from liability for acts of negligence.

The decision, in the words of the court, represents "the last phase of conflict between the doctrine of liability and the doctrine of immunity in governmental, charitable and religious cases."

At issue was a $35,000 damage suit brought by Gustave Widell of Casco against the Holy Trinity Catholic Church of Casco for injuries Widell allegedly suffered when he tripped over a kneeler in church.

The Supreme Court affirmed a Kewaunee County Circuit Court decision which refused to grant the church's motion that no cause for action existed.

In an opinion by Justice E. Harold Hallows, the court noted that governmental immunity was abolished in 1962 and the immunity of charitable hospitals in 1961 in cases before the state Supreme Court.

Serious Impact
The court argued that the rule of immunity has not and should not be abolished regarding churches because "it would have a serious impact on small religious groups."

"There can be no quarrel with the argument," Hallows said, "that the public benefits generally from the work of religious institutions."

But he said the question is whether "the benefit to the many should be at the expense of the innocent sufferer of injuries caused by the negligence of an agency of the religious institution."

"Certainly institutions teaching divine justice, the dignity of man and his obligations to his fellow-men and to his creator," Hallows said, "would not claim on the basis of their teachings that they ought to be exempt from repairing the injury done by themselves or their agents to another."

No Great Burden
Hallows said the new rule abolishing immunity for religious organizations would not place "any insuperable financial burden on them."

In earlier cases the court pointed out that governmental and charitable organizations should provide themselves with insurance to cover the costs of damage suits arising out of negligence.

Holy Trinity Catholic Church has insurance, but the church argued that "liability should not be predicated on ability to pay."

The court said the new rule abolishing immunity would apply to the Holy Trinity Catholic Church case, but that causes of action arising before July 1 of this year will be governed by the old rule of immunity.

Dillon Expects Cut in Deficit

—rather than of a government which spends too much."

"There can be no question," he said, "that if our economy were operating at reasonably full capacity, our tax system would today be producing more than enough revenue to finance our current national needs within a balanced budget. Instead of worrying about deficits we would be enjoying budgetary surpluses."

Dillon asserted the Kennedy administration dislikes deficits as much as anyone else.

"But," he added, "we are prepared to accept them if necessary to preserve our national security. And we are not prepared to sacrifice effective job-producing programs such as the emergency public works bill, during a period when unemployment remains at unacceptably high levels."

Another speaker today, Rep. Bruce Alger, R-Tex., described urban renewal as a "planned alliance between local political leaders and the Kennedy administration, aimed at keeping both in power."

He urged the businessmen to demand that their senators and congressmen "initiate an investigation which will get to the bottom of this mess and clean it up."

"There is enough evidence to convince me," Alger said, "that an adequate investigation by Congress will uncover wrongdoing of the kind that will send men to jail."

Haiti Acts to Ease Dominican Incident that it was withdrawing a 30-man naval training mission from Haiti at Duvalier's demand. Duvalier's demand was made Saturday, before the flareup in relations with the Dominican Republic, and obviously resulted from Washington's open opposition in recent months to the Duvalier dictatorship.

The United States declined Monday to serve on the OAS peace mission because of its strained relations with Haiti.

Guards Near Embassies
AP correspondent Morris Rosenberg reported from Port au Prince that Haitian guards still were stationed across the street from the Dominican Embassy.

Rosenberg said Haitian guards also were posted outside the Brazilian, Venezuelan and Ecuadorean embassies. These three and the Dominican Embassy are believed to be sheltering more than 70 Haitians who took refuge there after Duvalier began rounding up opponents last week.

Rosenberg said Foreign Minister Rene Chalmers told him the Duvalier regime would await arrival of the OAS team before deciding its next move.

He reported there were no unusual troop precautions apparent except for those taken last week.

UW Seeks Citizen Views in Survey On Several Topics

MADISON — The views of Wisconsin residents on U.S. military policy, including funds spent on defense, use of nuclear weapons, and the American position in Berlin, will be sought by the University of Wisconsin Survey Research Laboratory this spring.

Residents of 750 households in 27 counties, including Outagamie County, are being interviewed.

In addition to military policy, the survey is attempting to discover citizen opinions on such matters as sales and income taxation; federal government action in relation to housing, social security, and welfare programs; and voter preferences for election or appointment of judges.

Interviewers working on the survey are in the employ of the university and carry identification cards.

In Outagamie County, Mrs. Josephine Dachelet, Menasha, is conducting the interviewing.

when revolutionary mutterings began to be heard. Two small tanks guarded the presidential palace and traffic had to detour around them. Censors cut all references to the crisis from newspapers and radio broadcasts.

Private Militia

Duvalier relies on a private militia of 10,000 men known as the Tonton Macoute, or bogeymen. He distrusts the officers of the 5,000-man regular army and has largely nullified it by firing its top leaders and keeping its arms locked up in the presidential palace.

He has an air force of 15 Mustang fighters with 200 men, and a navy of six patrol boats manned by 300 men.

The Dominican Republic, freed from the Trujillo dictatorship recently, has 12,000 well-equipped men in its army and two 20-plane squadrons in the air force. The 3,000-man navy has two destroyers, two frigates, five corvettes, six patrol vessels and three landing craft.

In Santo Domingo, several hundred students attacked the Haitian Embassy and hurled stones through windows. Police repelled them with tear gas, and none of the crowd got into the embassy. The Haitian consul in the Dominican capital announced he was resigning his post and asking political asylum in the Dominican Republic.

The Dominican government also announced that five Haitian soldiers had crossed the border and been given political asylum.

GOP, Democrats Agree Conservative Coalition In House Now Fading

WASHINGTON (AP)—The once powerful conservative coalition in the House has lost every test so far in the present Congress.

Leaders of both parties agreed today, in separate interviews, that the combination of Republicans and Southern Democrats that dominated the House for nearly a generation just isn't what it used to be.

A review of the four major test votes that have taken place in the House since the new Congress convened in January bears them out.

What has happened is this: the Republican ranks are as firm as ever, but more and more Southern Democrats are voting like Northern and Western Democrats.

However the four votes are not all clearcut indicators of conservative strength. There is some indication that Democratic leaders have put their best foot forward by bringing up bills on which they felt their chances were best.

95 Democrats
For the purposes of the analysis the votes of the 95 Democrats from the 11 states that made up the old Confederacy were examined. The total party division in the House is 237 Democrats and 177 Republicans, with one vacancy.

Here is the pro and anti-administration split among the Southern Democrats on the four votes:

—Jan. 9. To keep the Rules Committee membership at 15, aimed at making it easier to get administration bills to the House floor.

—April 10. To restore $450 million for emergency public works. The split was 60-28.

—April 24. Against removing a $30-million student loan provision from the doctor-dentist training bill. Southerners 53-28.

—April 25. Against killing the administration's feed grains bill. Southerners 67-18.

On all these votes Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana held his party members in a virtually solid block.

But, Halleck said in an interview, "we can't do anything for fiscal responsibility without some support for the other side. And that support just hasn't been there."

Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., chairman of the House Republican Policy Committee, and a top party spokesman on fiscal matters, agreed that the support that once came from Southern Democrats has waned in the 88th Congress.

"There's no doubt about what's happened," Byrnes added. "The figures back it up."

Catholic Organizations Give Nod To Spring at Weekend Parties

Tuesday, April 30, 1963 Appleton Post-Crescent A10

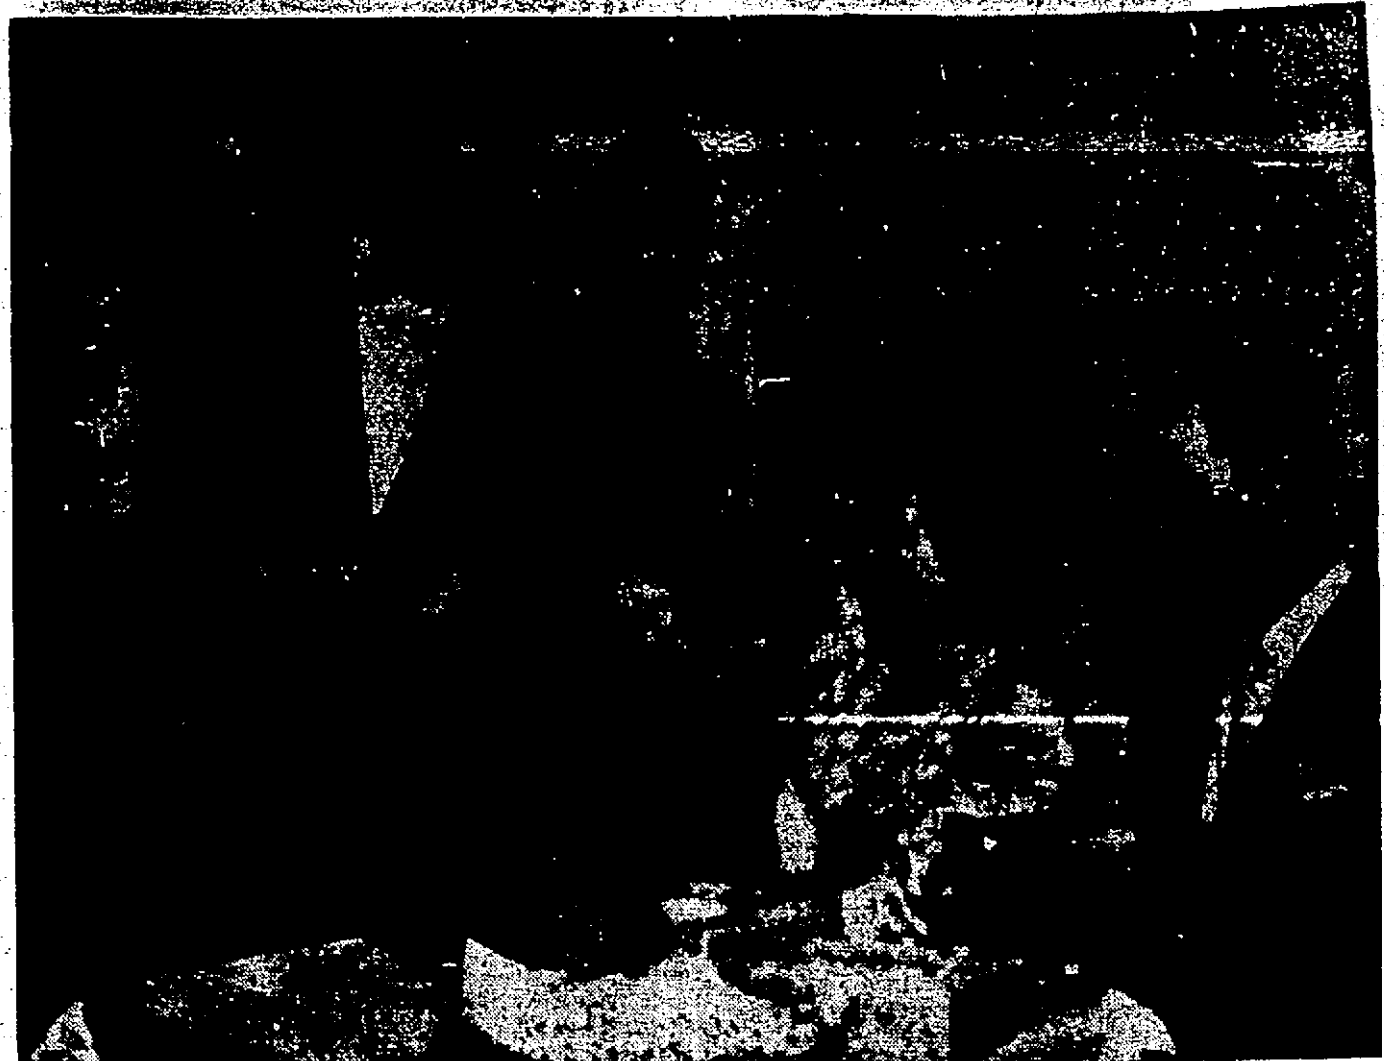

Catholic organizations made note of the Fox Cities' come and go springtime by scheduling weekend parties at school halls.

An Oriental theme was chosen by the Christian Mothers of Sacred Heart Parish for their Friday evening dance. Chairmen of the event were Mrs. Robert Beltrone and Mrs. Donald Malley. An Oriental tea table and far eastern costumes added a spark of authenticity to the affair.

The St. Mary Home and School Association was party sponsor at the dance held from 8 p.m. to midnight Saturday in the St. Mary gym. Committee members were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Deprez, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Vandenberg, tickets; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Burch, decorations; and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pankratz, refreshments.

At St. Pius X parish, the Holy Name Society held a 9 p.m. to midnight dance Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. John Grootmont and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lang were chairmen.

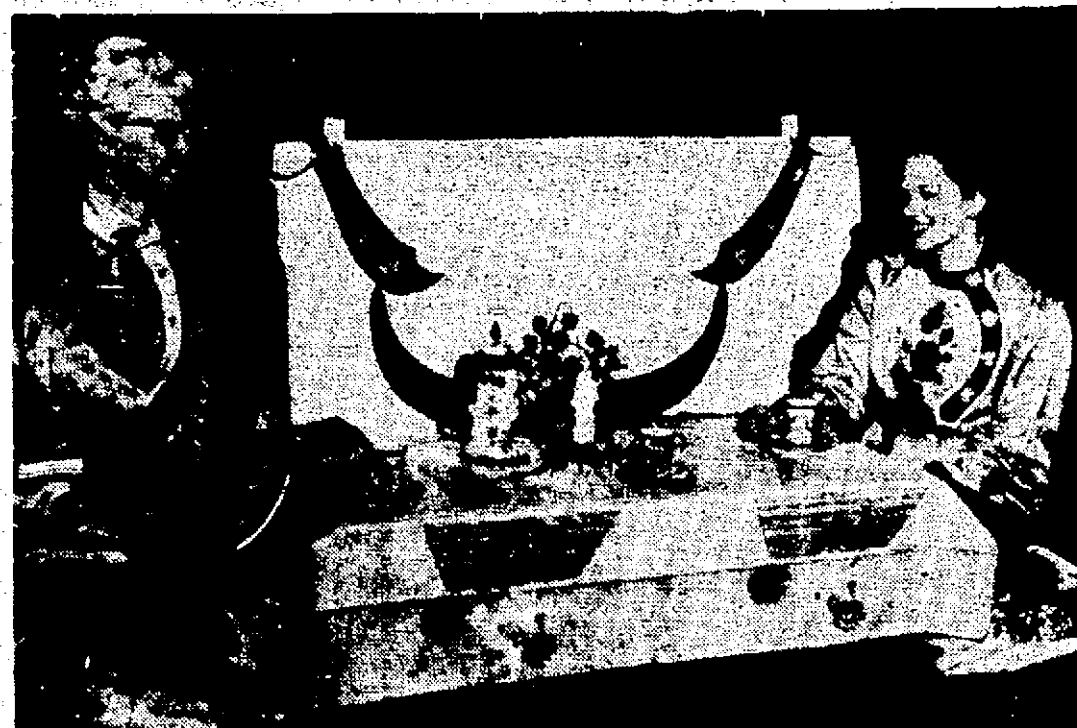

Mr. and Mrs. John Hartzheim checked in with ticket-takers Mr. and Mrs. Donald Malley at Sacred Heart School Friday evening. Sketches of Oriental gentlemen lined the walls, setting the Far Eastern mood of the party. Below, Mrs. George Holzknicht and Mrs. Robert Beltrone sit at an Oriental tea table.

The Rev. Wendall V. Eastman, Sturgeon Bay, Director of Migrant Ministry, will be guest speaker at the United Church Women of Outagamie County May Fellowship Day Friday. The program will be held at 9 a.m. at Evangelical United Brethren Church, using the theme, "One Family Under God; Genuine and Full Participation".

Before his appointment to the Migrant Ministry, Rev. Eastman was involved in similar work as a staff member of the Door County Christian Society for Migrant Work. He was director of the project, the largest local migrant effort in the state, during his final three years in that position.

The speaker is pastor of the "Church of the Old Rugged Cross" at Sturgeon Bay. He is also chairman of the Sturgeon Bay Ministerial Association. He previously held pastorates at Pine River and Brookings, S.D. Rev. Eastman's program will include pictures of the work of the migrant ministry and maps showing locations of migrants.

The Friday meeting will begin with a breakfast in the church hall. Program chairman is Mrs. Donald Herrling; tickets, Mrs. Frank Bergem; decorations, Mrs. Gilbert Kindschy; and dining room, Mrs. Robert Potter.

Mrs. Harold Lovdahl is general chairman. Hostesses at the breakfast will be Mrs. Margaret Philhower and Mrs. Alex Malcolm, First Presbyterian Church, Kimberly; Mrs. Hilmar Solberg and Mrs. Jack Goudzwaard, Evangelical United Brethren; Mrs. Merritt Black and Mrs. George Behnke, First Methodist, Kaukauna;

Rev. W. V. Eastman

Mrs. James Vahey and Mrs. Richard Plant, St. James Methodist; Mrs. C. E. Veite and Mrs. Michael Miller, Immanuel United Church of Christ, Kaukauna; Mrs. Lyman Clark and Mrs. Con Rigles, First Baptist; Mrs. Clinton Roach and Mrs. Clarence Lembecke, First Methodist; Mrs. Gustave Smedlund and Mrs. Andrew Marske, Our Saviour Evangelical Lutheran; Mrs. Richard Boya and Mrs. Harry Olson, First Congregational; Mrs. Walter Cover and Mrs. Herbert C. Holtz, Trinity

English Lutheran, and Mrs. Donald Grangaard and Mrs. John Ringleb, Memorial Presbyterian. Mrs. Ralph Sandgren will give the invocation.

Mrs. Frederick Bills will be organist at the worship service and Mrs. Frank Dauner, soloist. Mrs. Robert Lee, Mrs. Willard Smith and Mrs. E. R. Hollander will be readers.

Acting as ushers will be Mrs. John Nave, Mrs. William Gallagher, Mrs. Elmer Kioehn and Mrs. Melvin Bunnow.
